

FIND FAMILY OF SEVEN KILLED WHILE IN BEDS

Believe Insanity Caused Father to Commit Crime

WAS FORMER BANK TELLER

Five Young Children are Victims of Shooting; Inquest Held

ORMSBY, Minn., Sept. 5.—A family of seven, father, mother and five children, were found shot to death in their home today, apparently the victims of the father, Frank Klocow, a business man.

The bodies were discovered shortly after 4 p. m., but the coroner expressed the belief that they met their death yesterday morning.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Klocow, the dead are: Fred Klocow, 10; Myrtle, 14; Glen, 12; Oliver, 10; and Leonard, 8.

All had been shot by a revolver as they lay in bed, and there were indications that an anesthetic had been used beforehand. The revolver was found under Klocow's left arm.

Coroner Thompson, after an investigation, declared that Klocow had killed his family and then himself.

Klocow was 49, and until six months ago was cashier of the Farmers State Bank of Ormsby, but resigned.

He had refused to give the bank officials a reason for his resignation. They declared his accounts were satisfactory.

Neighbors and other friends could give no possible reason for the shooting. Temporary insanity is the only explanation friends make.

When Mrs. Albert Stralow went to the Klocow home today on an errand, she found the door to the back door open.

Entering the living room, she saw Myrtle lying on a cot. Glancing into the adjoining bedroom she saw Klocow in bed, apparently asleep, his face toward her.

In the bed, also, were Mrs. Klocow and Leonard. The three other boys were found in their beds upstairs.

They all lay with their heads toward the head of the bed, and the bodies were in a line.

On the floor were three exploded cartridges, and in the five-chambered revolver were two expended and three unexpended cartridges.

A letter found on a table was addressed to Henry Klocow, a brother, at Hawthorne, Iowa.

Neighbors said they thought the family had gone away Saturday night on a visit and did not return until today.

First public session of the Dail Eireann held in the Mansion House in Dublin, while below shows the vast crowd waiting outside to learn the result of the hearing on the peace negotiations.

COMPLETE PLAN FOR FARM LOAN

Will Advance Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Preparations for advancing upwards of a billion dollars in agricultural and livestock credits under recent legislation have virtually been completed by the War Finance Corporation.

Under the terms of the legislation, the corporation probably will be ready within a week or so to furnish under its enlarged powers designed to afford needed credit relief to the farmers.

It was said.

To expedite the advances executive committees are being formed in agricultural and stock raising sections and will assist in preliminary selection of applications.

Secretary investigations and determining the adequacy of securities of the farmer.

The corporation's policy for financing advances has been definitely decided, and it is believed little of the $400,000,000 balance with the treasury will be used for agricultural credits.

Domestic advances are being made not yet been definitely decided, but it is believed little of the $400,000,000 balance with the treasury will be used for agricultural credits.

HUNGER AND DEATH ARE UNNOTICED IN STREETS OF SAMARA

Hundreds of Fugitives Drop Over From Starvation Unnoticed

SAMARA, Russia, Sept. 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—Hunger and death go virtually unnoticed in the neglected streets and alleys of Samara, a city of 100,000 people.

The city is a mass of starving and hungry people, and the streets are filled with the dead.

SMALL ASKS VENUE CHANGE

Prejudice By Judge Is Charged

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 5.—Support by the affidavit by Senator J. A. Wheeler and C. H. Jenkins, director of the state department of public welfare, Governor Len Small has asked the court to change the venue of the trial of the case of the state treasurer.

The case of the state treasurer, who was charged with embezzlement of public funds while state treasurer, was filed in circuit court today.

Senator Wheeler is making a fine administration of the state while Governor Small has appointed the director of the public welfare department by Governor Small last January.

The affidavits state that the judges believed the judge of the said court, Honorable Elbert S. Smith, is so prejudiced against the state treasurer that the defendant should be tried in another venue.

Governor Small's petition makes the same charge.

Applications by Lieutenant General Sterling and Vernon S. Curtis, indicted with Governor Small, for a change of venue, will probably not be filed before September 16, the date set by agreement for actually starting the proceedings in the case, it was said tonight.

SAYS LABOR DAY IS DEDICATED TO NATION'S JOBLESS

Concerted Effort Should be Made by America, Says Davis

URGES FEAR BE SHAKEN OFF

Employers Requested to Play Fair With Employees

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 5.—Dedication of Labor day, 1921, to the relief of the nation's unemployed, was proposed by Secretary of Labor Davis today in an address to the workers of Detroit.

"In the past Labor day has been a holiday in honor of the man who toils," declared Secretary Davis. "This year it is a day that millions of our people would rather celebrate, not by taking a holiday, but by going back to work at a job."

The dedication of the day to the relief of the unemployed, estimated by the labor secretary to number "nearly six million" should carry with it, he said, a concerted effort on the part of all Americans, be they employed or unemployed.

As measures of partial relief, the secretary proposed the undertaking of public works, the distribution of work in the home, and the taking of the least part of the week, and the shaking off of fear and the taking of faith and courage.

"Above all we need to shake off fear and take on faith and courage," Mr. Davis asserted. "For the lack of that courage we are neglecting any number of large undertakings that would give us jobs."

The secretary in his address directed a message to the employers of the nation, declaring that the hungry crowd at the gate to your mill, that is only a temporary wage. During the war, the pendulum swung over to the employer's side.

Now it has swung back to your side. Play fair, he said, and you will do more to stabilize your business and bring about a change of fortune than you can do by any other means.

Those men who are awaiting around your gates looking for work are the same human beings as yourself. They have the same aspirations, the same families as you have for the future and play the part of far-sighted wisdom.

To labor the secretary held out the assurance that "in spite of the occasional hard-boiled employer, no true American business man entertains a serious thought of crushing the workers' organization."

"Let the employer know that he is not alone," he said. "Let the employer know that he is not alone."

"Let the employer know that he is not alone," he said. "Let the employer know that he is not alone."

PRESIDENT FOR LEAGUE NOT DECIDED UPON

Optimism Is Displayed in Transactions of Body

DUTCH MINISTER TO HEAD BRANCH

Women Represented At Conference As Is America

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—(By The Associated Press.)—The second assembly of the League of Nations opened today in an atmosphere of optimism and with as much enthusiasm as might reasonably be expected from so sober a body.

It was demonstrated that the popular branch of the league was meeting free from a pre-arranged program.

The assembly heard the opening address of Dr. W. H. D. Williams, 1800 of Geneva, who might be selected permanent president.

The only business transacted in the morning was the election of a committee on credentials and it was not until the afternoon recess that the delegates could exchange notes as to their choice of presiding officer.

South American delegates were headed by Dr. Antonio de Castro, of Brazil, and Dr. Juan Carlos, of Uruguay.

There was an important movement in favor of Dr. Antonio de Castro, Dutch minister of foreign affairs, who was eventually elected.

Count Mensdorff of Austria, and Professor Panarelli, former Italian minister, were also present.

Representatives of Bulgaria, the premier, and Bishop Noll of Albania, were also present.

Members of the league were the object of attention when Dr. E. E. welcomed them to the assembly.

Count Mensdorff was named on the committee on credentials.

Women were well represented in the delegations. They included Emile Millard of France, Christine Bonney of Norway, Henri Torckmann of Denmark, and others.

The United States had a larger representation than any other country except Switzerland, but it was not until the afternoon recess that the delegates could exchange notes as to their choice of presiding officer.

ROY GARDNER IS OUT AGAIN; TWO ARE SHOT

Daring Bandit Breaks Through the Fence Amid Hail of Bullets; Companion Killed

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 5.—United States Marshal John W. Wainwright, superintendent of federal prisons and brother-in-law of President Harding, three convicts in the McNeil Island federal penitentiary today made a dash for liberty.

The result was that one was dead, another seriously wounded and the third, Roy Gardner, California mail bandit, is at large and believed to be in hiding on the island.

Everett Brown and Lavada Bort, Camp Lewis soldiers recently sentenced to life imprisonment for a statutory offense, were shot down by the guards. Brown was instantly killed.

Superintendent Wainwright arrived at the prison this morning at 8 o'clock on a trip of inspection and two and a half hours later witnessed the dash for liberty.

Telephone advice from McNeil Island, Wash., that the break of Roy Gardner and his companions occurred at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The convicts had been given a holiday for Labor day and about 250 of them were watching a baseball game between two prison teams.

Gardner, Brown and Bort had contrived to meet themselves together at the extreme rear of the crowd of spectators. They had evidently made careful preparations for the attempt to break through the prison walls.

The guards were alerted and the three men fled. They waited until a tense point had been reached in the ball game and then suddenly bolted.

Gardner was the fastest of the three and reached the barbed wire fence in advance of his companions. He had stolen a pair of pliers from the prison tool shop and was using them to cut the fence.

He was captured at the fence by the guards. He was then taken to the jail in the San Francisco jail. He was captured at the fence by the guards. He was then taken to the jail in the San Francisco jail.

TAXES CLAIM BIG ESTATES

Estates Disappearing In England

LONDON, Sept. 5.—England's great estates are crumbling under the weight of taxation and death duties and one big landed proprietor after another among the nobility is dividing and selling his holdings, many of which have been in the hands of single families for centuries.

The latest indication that peers are finding it necessary to divide their estates comes in the announcement of the Duke of Portland that he may have to abandon his palatial mansion, Welbeck Abbey, in Nottinghamshire. This is only one of the residences of the Duke who owns some 100,000 acres in England.

For centuries past landed estates have been handed down from generation to generation, said the Duke, and the coming of age of his son, Lord Francis Cavendish, "Landlords and tenants have lived on terms of mutual trust and affection. I fear, however, that the state of things is passing Welbeck, but I fear that there can be little doubt that those who come after me will not be able to do so."

It is all since the war that the Duke has been unable to find tenants and the Duke's estate is passing to the hands of the state.

The Duke of Devonshire sold Devonshire House in 1913 and Blenheim Palace, the property of the Duke of Marlborough, was sold in 1917.

Others who have sold their properties recently include the Duke of Bedford, the Duke of Westminster, the Duke of Rutland, the Duke of Grafton, the Duke of Marlborough, Lord Leconfield, Lord Londesborough, Lord Portman, Lord Camden, Lord Curzon, Lord Bessborough, Lord Harewood, Lord Abingdon, Lord Lovat, Lord Harrington, Lord Harewood, the Countess of Warwick and Sir Richard Buxley.

On the other hand, the Duke of Devonshire has been unable to find tenants and the Duke's estate is passing to the hands of the state.

France May Try

Acquitted Germans

COCHIN, France, Sept. 5.—It is possible that Germany accused of war crimes may be acquitted in the absence of the French, it was declared by M. Bonnevay, minister of justice, yesterday in an address delivered here in presenting the French war crimes to this village. He declared that having some new order of the supreme allied council, it was unlikely that the Germans would be held guilty by the Allies. "We have seen the trial of a traitor," he said. "A French military court is the proper court to try crimes committed by soldiers."

METHODISTS' MEMBERSHIP GAIN IN LAST YEAR IS 1,255,091

Many Drop Dead From Starvation

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—A net gain of 1,255,091 members has been made by all divisions of the Methodist church in the United States in the past ten years, despite great losses suffered by the denomination during the war, according to statistics compiled for presentation to the decennial Ecumenical Methodist Conference which opens in London next week. The figures, compiled by the Rev. Dr. H. E. Carroll of Plainfield, N. J., former director of the United States Census, were made public here today.

Methodist Sunday schools in the United States, however, the report says, show a net loss for the two years, 1919 and 1920, of 238,648, an appalling figure, although 1920 returns indicate that "the lost ground is being regained." Notwithstanding that Sunday school pupils of the denomination in this country were 306,000 less in number in 1920 than in 1919, the enrollment throughout the world shows an increase of 1,255,091 Methodist pupils for the ten-year period.

"It is a remarkably good showing that American Methodism has to present to the Ecumenical conference," declared Dr. Carroll's statement. "Delegates representing nearly 37,000,000 Methodist members and adherents will be in attendance. We are never more proud of our alliance with our allies in this terrible conflict."

The year 1919 was the hardest the churches of America have known, at least since the Civil War. Methodist churches have suffered with the other evangelical denominations, actual losses. The Methodist Episcopal church suffered most.

Wholesale Trade In July Shows Decrease

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Wholesale trade during July was less in value and probably in volume than it was in July of a year ago, it was said by John F. Taylor, chairman of the board of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. Reports from 133 representative wholesale firms in ten lines of business in the district, he said, showed a decrease of from 1.1 per cent to 10.1 per cent in the value of net sales in July, this year compared with July, 1920, in all lines except automobiles, in which an increase of 1.1 per cent was recorded.

Compared with June, 1921, the net value of July sales of reporting stores was less in all lines except automobiles, automobiles, equipment and groceries. Agricultural implements registered the largest decrease, 4.6 per cent.

Forward prices compared with those of one year ago are substantially lower in all reporting lines of business. It is indicated that the physical volume of merchandise being sold

HUNGER IS UNNOTICED

At Boksosky said the entire peasant population of 2,600,000 would be dependent upon outside food by November. Already 100,000 peasants are without food, this number including 50,000 children who have been placed in soviet homes.

Conditions at Samoylenka, a village 30 miles from Samara and reachable by railway or river communication, are typical of the misery existing throughout the province of Samara. The peasants there are eating bread made from melon rinds, sunflower seed and grass seed. One mother killed her baby last week saying she could not bear to see it starve. Other mothers are threatening to kill their children. One woman with six children said to the Associated Press:

"You know, it takes children so long to die. It is horrible to watch them shiver up."

In conclusion, Dr. Carroll says: "The net increase of Sunday school pupils for the ten years is 1,255,091. Of this number, the Methodist Episcopal church, the only body of any name, so far as I recall, which has more members in Sunday school than members in church, had the honor of 434,471. It also participated in the total increase of officers and teachers of 53,701. When it is remembered that a great recruiting agency for church members the denomination has been the significant increase of the number of officers and teachers of this institution is a happy augury."

Mining Company Has Bathing Facilities

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Sept. 5.—One of the large mining companies here is installing a public bathing and swimming pool at a cost between $4000 and $5000. The site is in a large park which is being created as a memorial to the soldiers and sailors of the World War.

Another company is contributing a community house to cost about $2000. More than $2000 has been raised in "small contributions," and this is being used to improve the grounds, install an auto camp section and provide a table bearing the names of the approximately 425 men who entered the service from this section.

The park is to be for the free use of the public, and one of the outgrowths of the movement will be a playground for children, including all modern equipment and a special pool for bathing.

ONE TERMINAL

Fresno is being gradually converted to the "city planning" idea.

We have been cautious about it. We have recognized, one by one, the difficulties—objections that lie in our views of the city's needs and of our individual needs, and difficulties that perhaps lie only in the mechanism of accomplishing city planning.

There seem to be two main difficulties to the formation of an acceptable scheme for a city plan for Fresno. One of these interferences is purely mental. The other is a very serious material one.

But we think that they can both be overcome. The mental objection is the fear that city planning will not merely be constructive—that it will be destructive; that it will not merely be forward looking, that it will be retroactive; that it will not merely limit the opportunities of certain of our citizens or property owners to commit certain building or industrial wrongs against the city as a whole, but that it will apply in a constructive way to vested rights that now exist.

This fear—it is really a fear without a proper foundation if the plan for the city's growth be properly drafted—must be met not only in the terms of any ordinance that is to be placed before the people of Fresno, but it must be corrected in the minds of the people of this city. We must be convinced that city planning is helpful and not hurtful. We must understand that the scheme to which we are asked to give our approval will not only do the positively good things that we all expect it to do, but that it will not do the negatively bad things that we have feared city planning would do.

We are satisfied that the city planning commission recently appointed by Mayor Hart will so draft the ordinance that will be later submitted to the commission that this city will be "sold" on the proposal with little delay.

The other objection is, as we defined it, entirely material. It does not involve any question of the general theory of city planning. It consists of the meeting of a special problem of the arrangement of the city of Fresno.

This is the question of a "union" station for the handling of traffic.

Fresno has been remarkably aided by its passenger service. It is at this moment receiving the benefit of active, trained railroad men, men who are a part of active, trained organizations. It has the physical advantage of competing services from two great companies. We may some day have the benefit of a third or even of a fourth company. This will be well.

But we are laboring under the difficulty, and we have labored for years under the difficulty, of having the map of the city unnecessarily interfered with and cut up by the physical presence of two service lines, when one such service factor would be enough. There should be but one terminal.

We have just one city. It has but two dimensions. No matter how big our city may grow, if it is to have individuality, its unity must be expressed by a single relationship to its passenger service.

The higher the city grows, the greater will be the inconvenience to its traffic in having a diversity of terminals.

Competition in railway service is good for the city. Competition in the use of terminals is non-sense.

We have too many needs for the use of our streets, or our districts or "quarters" of the city, for the disposition of our means of communication, to permit of the heart of the city to be approached in two ways. One way is enough. That way should be the city's way, and not the way of any one traffic company.

It is not necessary that the city should own the terminal. In fact that is not the custom in other places. But it should be possible to have formed a terminal company, which shall be used by any or all the railroads that enter the city. This terminal company should be managed in the interest of the city as a traffic producer for all the companies that feed from the city, not in the behalf of any company.

It is of course understood that there are difficulties in the way. These difficulties arise from the natural repugnance of companies now enjoying separate terminals in the city to abandoning the advantage that they have had and have "earned" in favor of a grouping of rights in a terminal where they have got the worse of a pooling of opportunities.

This hesitance must be considered and respected. The formation of the terminal must be accomplished with due regard to present rights. There must be such a proportioning of advantages that each company will be as well off relatively to the other as it was before. Neither the Southern Pacific nor the Santa Fe must be made to suffer in the interest of the other. But each and both of them may have to give up something in the interest of the city.

Terminal disputes that arise in a new country were not decided in favor of localities—they were frequently resolved entirely according to the interests of the transportation lines. This was proper, with the light that we had on transportation affairs in those days. The companies were hearing the most of the financial risks. They should not have been held up for excessive terminal costs.

But the situation is different now. The cities have acquired vested rights of their own. These must be respected, not because they are "rights," but because they are opportunities in which the companies must share.

tively easy. Many of the practical difficulties that now face the city government and its people will disappear.

The problem of a union terminal must not be approached in any spirit of constricting the transportation rights. Above all, we deprecate the tendency on some hands to oppose rail transportation. As far as we can see now, rail traffic will always be cheaper and easier for the mass of business.

The city planning must view the city roughly as a compact district devoted to four purposes—residence, merchandising, factories and transportation. Each must be given its due consideration. And not the least of them is transportation.

But in the city of Fresno, the transportation lines are given too pronounced an effect upon the form of the city. They should be in a spirit of mutual consideration, altered for the better.

"CURVES"

When we proud yet humble human beings stand off and look at ourselves and wonder that we can be so helpless and yet so clever, one of the most frequent occasions for our great self respect is our language.

Words are our great and yet our most commonplace playthings. They master us and we master them. On them we rise to the heights of glory or of infamy, and then again with them we order ham and eggs for breakfast.

Words are the tools of thought and the masters of thought. Whole schools of psychologists argue learnedly as to whether man has thoughts and then expresses them in words, or whether man has words and then attaches to them thoughts. There is more in this than appears on first notice. Words may have been originally just grunts or cries, or some other form of exclamation. The pig grunts now. Does he have thoughts? Or will he have to evolve for some millions of years before he attaches to his thoughts meanings?

Be this as it may, words are strange and peculiar things. They are of us, yet in the course of time, they acquire an existence, a respect of their own that is superhuman.

We may watch the growth of words as we watch the growth of human beings, or institutions, or nations. If we ordinarily think of a nation, like England or France or Germany, as static, something that always has existed and always is to exist, a study of history teaches us that nations are born, have a youth and a maturity and even may suffer from senility and die. So, we may see, if we look closely into our language and other languages, the birth and growth of words; their acquiring of full force, and even their obsolescence and death.

Usually we see words so much older than each of us is, and so much more vivid and forceful than any of us is, that we think of them as sure of their meaning. We know what the word means, or we are confident that someone else knows what it means.

But there are words that are still in the fluid state. They are just growing. And there are other words that have a definite meaning, or at least a definite opportunity to mean something, but they do not yet find a place in very many minds. They have to assert a claim to a right to be used. Some words spring fast into public approval. Some legitimate words gain popularity so fast that they have all the gaudy newness of slang. Other words gain very slowly.

One of this latter kind of word is the "curve." "Curve" to the man who uses it, expresses a definite idea, in a most forceful way. It gives clearness and definiteness to a thought. A curve is a language. Through the use of the curve, he can convey a concept in a simple way, when otherwise there would be no simplicity.

But the curve for many years has been fighting for its place in social convenience. What would the casual worker think of using a curve to express the relation of his working to his living? What would the average citizen think of using a "curve" to express the relation of his income to his outgo. The scientist, the engineer knows "curves." Some merchants do. All scientists and all engineers think in curves. Few merchants do. They think of the facts that curves would express. But they think of them with quite different mental tools.

It is just as though we had to do our usual numerical thinking in terms of Roman numerals. Arabic numerals are one of the most notable mental conveniences that men have ever invented. The Romans did not possess them. The Greeks did not. The Greeks had great mathematicians. They performed these without the use of Arabic numerals. Some day we will be addicted to the use of curves. We will think in terms of them. And we will be more efficient human beings because of them.

The Making of the West

Kenneth A. Millican in Overland Monthly.

It seems to me God took a part of Eden
And purged it of the things that should not be;
Then molded on it the gentle hills and valleys
And placed it by his own most wondrous sea.

He bled mountains, traced around them rivers,
He sowed it with a lavish hand in grain;
He touched it with the energy of Ajax
And tinged it with the indolence of Spain.

He conjured fruits and flowers into being
And all his work was with perfection done.
He bathed it in his melted golden sunbeams
And so God made the Great Pacific West.

The food is about as good in a cheap joint, but in a high-priced restaurant you get a little more deference from the waiter.

In the matter of getting morsels from the pork barrel, Congressmen frequently swap an Aye for an Aye.

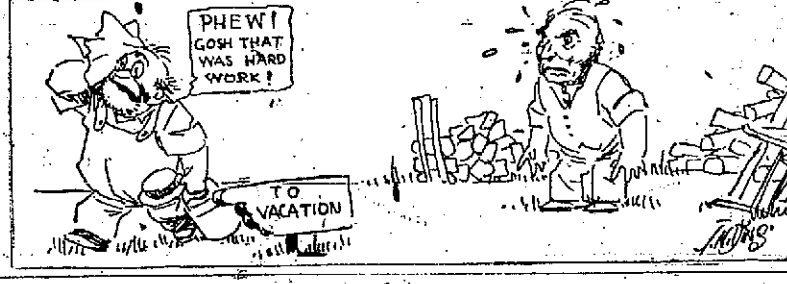

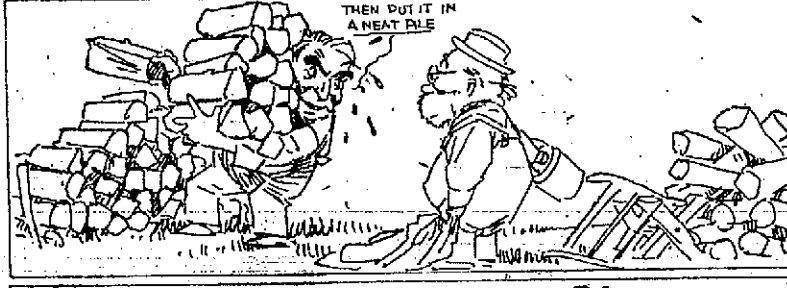

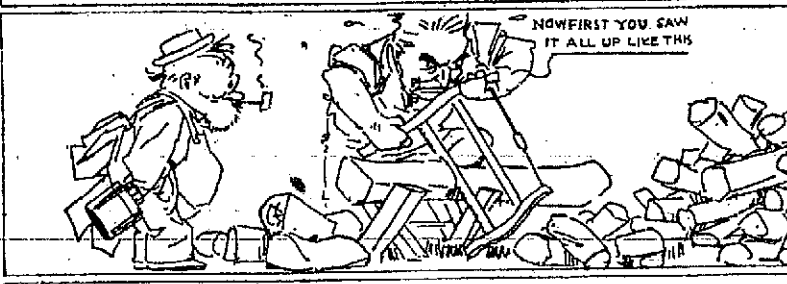

The remarkable thing about it is not the number of miles you can get to the gallon, but the amount of dust you can swallow to the mile.

With styles as they are, love at first sight seems more reasonable. The first sight leaves little for future discovery.

And yet you will find a great many civilized men who are not civil.

The teeth in the prohibition law are the kind that come out at night.

Uncommon Sense

Be An Effective Advertiser

In the end you will succeed or fail because of what is inside of your head.

But neither the X-ray nor any other device ever invented or ever likely to be invented, will enable a prospective employer to look into your brain.

Even the questionnaires and psychological tests show but little.

And many a boy who stands at the head of his class in school or college never makes good in after life.

You carry somewhere behind your forehead the ability that will enable you to win.

But that ability has got to be tried out. You have got to persuade somebody that you are worth employing before you can use even the best of ability.

This is the age of advertising. Yet even if you could afford it, you would gain little by putting an "ad" in the paper announcing that you are an able and an efficient young man, capable of making good in almost any job, and certain to be worth three or four times your salary to any employer.

That may be done successfully some day. Just now the business world is not quite ready for it.

You must have some kind of an "ad" however to sell yourself with, and the best one available is a good appearance.

If you look prosperous, if you are well dressed and alert and cheerful you are well advertised.

In any line of application, you are likely to be picked out as one of the most promising.

Your clothes and your general appearance attract attention.

Appearance is not all of course. Many men look like a million dollars who are not worth ten cents.

But they get found out very speedily.

If you are really able and competent all you need, all you ought to have, is a chance.

You will never get that chance if you wear seedy clothes and neglect your teeth and need a shave.

Your only "ad" is the impression employers and others get of you at the start.

Make that a good one. Don't be afraid to spend money on it. All good advertising is expensive, yet it is the best investment that a business man can possibly make.

Fresno's Yesterdays

Taken from the Files of the FRESNO REPUBLICAN

Twenty Years Ago Today

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Goode of Clovis left yesterday on a trip to Buffalo to take in the last of the exposition.

Ten Years Ago Today

Rev. Harvey S. Hanson, for years rector of St. James' Episcopal church in this city and dean of St. James' church in San Francisco, was in the city yesterday.

Rev. R. W. Rhames, formerly rector of the church of the Good Shepherd at Memphis, Tennessee, is to leave Fresno for his place here, according to an announcement made yesterday. He is to occupy the pulpit at St. James' on October 1, and to become assistant to Bishop Sanford, who has charge of the diocese of San Joaquin, has announced that he will make St. James' church his cathedral. This is subject to confirmation by the vestrymen.

Rev. Evans, who has been chosen as rector of the Episcopal church at Reedley, it is announced, will probably also have charge of work at Sanger and Clovis, in pursuance of a missionary movement being inaugurated.

Entering a room in the Fresno House occupied by Edwin Taylor, an aged broommaker, late last night, an intruder knocked the aged man down with a club and attempted to rob him. The broommaker was not rendered unconscious by the blow and fought with his assailant. The robber became frightened and left the house without securing any money.

LLOYD GEORGE AND JAPAN

From the New Republic

Mr. Lloyd George's embarrassment at discovering himself in the predicament between two charmers found expression in his pontifical speech to the House of Commons. Toward the Japanese he recognized the obligation of the most "use it to be suggested that we now should turn round and say to them: 'Thank you; you stood by us in trouble, but we don't need you any longer, so goodbye.'"

The British Empire must behave like gentlemen. But on the other hand, he affirmed it as "a cardinal principle of British policy" that we should act in as complete accord with the United States as we can.

The extraction from the dilemma occurred as a matter of course to Lloyd George's mind, as it would to any poster boy's on a park bench between Lily and Margie. "If the alliance with Japan could be merged into a greater understanding with Japan and the United States on all the problems of the Pacific, that would be a guaranty for the peace of the world."

Into this brilliant conception of the world's future, Mr. Lloyd George threw a bit of reality in a single word—"China."

China, and China's unneeded presence, but it is clear that the charm was broken, the bubble shattered. It may be well for the American press, so easily dazzled by the facile brilliance of Lloyd George, to remember that word. For America and Japan are in complete opposition in regard to China, and the detestation with which America regards the Japanese alliance is because of the fact that it inevitably marks Great Britain's acceptance of a policy which we think criminal. England has usually opposed and thwarted attempts which the United States has made to promote the integrity and preserve the sovereignty of China—witness the defeat of the North China railway project in 1909. At the present time she is engaged in operations in South China, the predatory character of which is illustrated by the Chinese refusal to sign the Kwantung. If Lloyd George thinks that the British Empire is behaving like gentlemen toward China it is clear that he has in mind standards of international morality which America is not yet prepared formally to accept.

THE NEW GERMAN BOGY

From the New York Times

For several months past a new tradition of German invincibility has been building. This time it was commercial Germany had the world's trade at her mercy. Such was the report of the export trade commission. In the export trade Germany was beyond challenge. She was about to invade every foreign market with enormous quantities of goods of all kinds, to be sold at prices which would drive other manufacturing nations to complete ruin. It was a sort of new German terror, menacing the world.

A few happy exceptions refused to give way to the prevalent dread. They would not believe that Germany had lost a frightful portion of its man power in a war which had left it defeated and humiliated, and imposed upon it a crushing debt, could suddenly rally its industrial and commercial forces and sweep across Germany in trade from all rivals. With her shipping swept from the seas, her banking and trade connections abroad broken, and with a thoroughly public situation and a desperate currency at home, how was it possible that a Germany visibly crippled, could overnight appear as a strong man ready to run a race? But to those who thus doubted on general principles a ready answer was forthcoming. There was the low value of the mark in foreign exchange. That alone gave Germany a great advantage. Then there were the starvation wages of German workmen. In addition was the willingness of German labor to work incredibly long hours and with unequalled industry. Germany, in short, was a new Germany, and it was to be feared. There were tales of surprising underbidding by German exporters in Spain and South America and the United States. Matter, enough, that the German government was to attempt the manufacture and export of other nations.

It was high time that the text of cold facts should be applied to ardent imaginations. This is now being done by the investigation and students of economics. The London Economist had lately a conclusive exposure of some of the assertions on which the German myth is based.

Mr. L. R. Morris has a long and detailed article going to prove how wildly exaggerated have been the stories of German success in the export business.

Trade reports, official statistics, the opinions of German themselves and impartial, technical publications in Germany, all have been examined by Mr. Morris for the purpose of extracting the truth. He finds evidence that German exports are not, in fact, increasing nearly as fast as those of France. He shows that German workmen have wages which have advanced relatively in the past of living at as high a percentage as in most other countries. Moreover, they cannot usefully working ten or twelve hours a day.

day. Nor has their productivity been enhanced. The Manufacturers' Union of South Germany recently bewailed the fact that the workmen are usually opposed and thwarted attempts which the United States has made to promote the integrity and preserve the sovereignty of China—witness the defeat of the North China railway project in 1909. At the present time she is engaged in operations in South China, the predatory character of which is illustrated by the Chinese refusal to sign the Kwantung. If Lloyd George thinks that the British Empire is behaving like gentlemen toward China it is clear that he has in mind standards of international morality which America is not yet prepared formally to accept.

It is not a large industry to jump to conclusions on either side. More time must pass, and there must be patient observation of changing conditions before we can be absolutely sure of our ground. But it is already beyond doubt that too much of a bogy has been made of the expected or threatened industrial invasion of the world by German export trade. What was feared is a reality, but it is far less than the actual facts.

THOUGHTS

Secretary Davis said a unique thing the other day—unique for this age of commissions and investigations. Asked for three hundred words on how labor and capital can get together, he answered: "Three hundred words too many. The best way is to get together." The Ad Club

I was greatly disturbed
The other day
When I was breaking bread
With the Ad Club
By somebody I saw
In that maelstrom
Of advertising.
I am given to understand
That every body
Who belongs to that club
Must be an advertiser
Or a firm believer
In advertising
And so I viewed
With astonishment,
As the saying is,
That friend of mine
Who was amongst those present.
It has come to me
In the days between
That he was only a guest
And that guests
Can be advertisers
Or non-advertisers.
As they may so wish,
But all I knew
Was that this here lad
Was sitting well up front
And eating with a will
And both hands
And that he belonged
To a profession
That swears and affirms
And solemnly deposes
That never and not
Has it or will it
Do any advertising.
I have been told—
Although I must admit
That I never have laid eyes
On any such case—
That physicians and surgeons
Have been known

To shoot reporters
And such-like insects
That even dared to print
The names of those doctors
In the public prints.
I have heard such tales,
But don't believe them.
But here was a member
Of that healing fraternity
Attending a meeting
Of an advertising club
And breaking bread with them
And sipping ice tea
And trying to extract soup
From the side of a spoon
And clapping his hands
When somebody or other
Would say a kind word
About the good that comes
From proper advertising.
I'll bet you anything
That Doc is sold
To the idea
And that very soon
We'll be reading ads
That run like this
In bold black type;
K. J. Stanfield
Cures when others fail.
See his bargains—
A twenty dollar cure
For eighteen-sixty-five.
A tummy-ache removed free
With each major operation.
Come one—Come all.
Man-o-dear, folks,
I'm proud of that ad
My ownself.
That ought to make business
For any doctor-body.
When Doc starts in
I'd like to have the job
Of writing ads for him.
I'd do him good.

How They Got In

Young Francis Forthby Fortescue
Has snarl relations by the dozen,
His face is long, his blood is blue,
His uncle was the king's ninth cousin.
Where you-a gambler you would bet
That no young man has better chances
To move in Vincent Astor's set
And he a social swell than Francis.

Yet in a flat house he repines,
For though these folks are far below him,
At Vanderbilt's he never dines
And J. P. Morgan doesn't know him.
He's strong on breeding, looks and rank;
He's both a gentleman and scholar,
But he lacks standing in the bank,
For Francis hasn't got a dollar.

Mike Quinn laid bricks some years ago
And never heard of a cottillion;
His hands are rough, his brow is low
But he has piled up ninety million.
Just now he's outside looking in,
But don't regard him with compassion.
You soon will read of Michael Quinn
Among the news of folk of fashion.

At Newport there is much hauteur
Among the people who are met there;
Their "a's" are broad, their "r's" they slur,
But it was cash that helped them get there.
Though wealth today is not enough
Alone to give men social station,
You'll find that necks were pretty rough
In Swellodom's earlier generation.

BEADS CARRIED FOR GOOD LUCK

Oriental People Value
Blue Beads Highly

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5.—The token of the Near East is the blue bead. Its supposed potency is recognized equally by King Constantine, the Sultan of Turkey, Mustafa Kemal, General Vamvakis and on down to the humblest soldier and peasant. M. Gounaris, the right-hand man of Constantine, carries a whole string of beads in his pocket which he takes out and fingers while being interviewed by foreign correspondents. No cabinet meeting or war council in the Near East is completely without beads. In the Angora parliament, where the sittings are often stormy, members shake their heads at each other and sometimes throw them across the chamber. Peasants of Turkey and Greece put beads on their carapels, hang them over the door like a horseshoe, decorate the tails and the bridles of their horses and horns of their buffaloes and oxen with them. No journey is undertaken without beads on the horses and the wagon. No peasant woman is happy unless she has them stuck in her hair, while her wealthier sisters wear them as necklaces. The shops of Asia Minor are full of these cheap beads and the blue glass one is the most popular of all.

Last of Wild Lands Opened To Travel

LANDER, Wyo., Sept. 5.—The Wind River extension of the Rocky Mountain Highway, which was ceremoniously dedicated on Sunday, Aug. 21, is said to open up to travel the last of the really wild lands of the United States. The Rocky Mountain highway runs from Denver to Lander, and the Wind River extension carries it 280 miles farther through the "front door" to Yellowstone National Park. The total distance from Denver to the park is 558 miles. The dedication took place at Two-gwale Pass, the highest point of the trail, 9,500 feet above sea level, where the traveler enters into the famous Jackson Hole country where Trazzy the outlaw some years ago led hundreds of deputies a merry chase in the dense forests and among the wild canyons. It is said that 400 miles of trout streams come tumbling down the canyons into the Wind River along the trail. Some of them it is said, never have been mapped, and there have been recent discoveries of small lakes which were not shown on the maps. Through most of the region the forests, birds and game are under government protection. Old style cowboys still herd cattle on the free range.

WILL DISCUSS BIG PROBLEMS

Methodist Leaders Are To Meet

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Important world problems, including the revision of Christianism, marriage and divorce, capital and labor, international co-operation and the cause of the present age, are to be discussed at the fifth Ecumenical Methodist Conference which opens in Central Wesleyan Hall, Westminster, tomorrow evening and continues until Friday September 12. The speakers will be leaders of Methodist thought throughout the world and will include editors, educators and other laymen as well as bishops and ministers.

It is ten years since the last previous similar conference was held in Toronto, Ont. Since then, according to official figures, Methodism has gained 2,835,841 members, probationers and adherents.

Delegates to the present meeting, including African M. E. Church representatives, is 555 of whom 361 are from the United States, 84 from Canada, 130 from all other lands. In Great Britain and its dominions and mission fields, the opening sermon will be preached at the historic Wesley's Chapel here tomorrow evening by the Rev. S. P. Ross, D. D., of Montreal, Quebec.

The Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of Plainfield, N. J., will present to the conference an estimate showing the Methodist population in the world, including members, probationers and adherents to have totaled 26,622,120 in 1918. In 1910 it was given as 22,728,641.

Methodist population of the world, says Dr. Carroll, "on the accepted basis of four adherents to each member in the Eastern Section and of two and a half in the United States and Canada, has reached highly satisfactory figures. It is probably the largest population of any Protestant communion except the Lutheran."

Among the announced topics and speakers at the forthcoming sessions are the following: "Reunion of Christendom," The Rev. David L. Downey, New York; "The Moral Voice of International Alliance," United States Senator Carter Glass; "Changing Moral Standards of the Age," Bishop F. J. McConnell, St. Louis; "The Responsibility of the Church," Bishop James Cannon, Jr., Birmingham, Ala.; "The Responsibilities of Capital and Labor," E. L. Kinnear, Pittsburgh, Pa.; "The Rev. Dr. J. A. Tuttle, Alberta College, Edmonton, Alberta, Can.

Others announced to speak are: Bishop Rogers—Usaki, of Japan; Judge Samuel L. Adams, Savannah, Ga.; Mr. Robert W. Parks, Earl; Sir George Smith, Ex-Governor Henry C. Stuart of Virginia; the Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, R. H. Waller, Judge Charles A. Follock; Judge J. B. Cockrell; Arthur Henderson M. P.; and "Gypsy" Smith.

Passport Issue Is Recognized

ROME, Sept. 5.—The issuance of passports has been recognized by Italy as a prerogative of the Holy See and Italian law in a step toward acknowledging one attribute of the temporal power. Italian newspapers speak of the event as a small thing in itself but of great political importance.

Until a few months ago, Vatican diplomats traveled in possession of passports of the country from which they came. If the representatives of the Holy See were Italians (they would procure their passport from the regular Italian authorities, secure the necessary visas and travel under that protection). When the Holy See issued a passport for one of its emissaries the request was made to the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs in a confidential way, according to the Giornale d'Italia, and the passport blank was dispatched to the Vatican so that the name could be filled out there.

Now the Pope's nuncios, legates, internuncios and apostolic delegates are furnished with pontifical passports issued in the Vatican. These passports are taken over to the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs where they receive the Italian visa. "It demonstrates," says the Giornale d'Italia, "that the hostile attitude existing between the Vatican and Italy is disappearing."

Wedding Rings Are Admission Passes

DEAUVILLE, France, Sept. 5.—A young American girl about to enter the roulette room at the Casino was stopped a few days ago by the uniformed Gendarmes at the door and asked for her admission ticket. "Two rings," replied the bride-to-be, "and I am ready." Disappointed she stood by a few moments and noticed a young French woman about her own age being bowed into the gambling room by the same Gendarmes who had refused her admittance. A plain little gold band, which the young French woman wore on the third finger of her left hand, was shown to the Gendarmes and proved the open sesame.

The young American girl called on a Jeweler the next morning and accompanied by her usual dancing partner, again appeared at the door of the Casino. The Gendarmes, again obliging, said: "I'm married, displaying the wedding ring purchased this morning." "We can't ask every woman to produce her marriage contract," said the Gendarmes.

The Jeweler is wondering what is causing the unprecedented demand for wedding rings lately out of proportion to the number of coming marriages posted at the Town Hall.

15,000 CLIMB BIG MOUNTAIN

Road Is Eighteen Miles To Summit

MONTTE GRAPPA, Italy, Sept. 5.—This mountain, 6,000 feet high amid the jagged crags of the Alps, has just been the scene of a great pilgrimage to 15,000 veterans of the world war, women and children, who for days have been climbing to reach the summit where the statue of a Madonna and child was consecrated in memory of the Italian heroes who fought in these mountain fastnesses.

The road to the summit is 18 miles in length and winds through places skirts the edge of bottomless ravines and rises finally to giddy heights, where to the south one seems to see the Italian sea, to the north the Italian Alps, to the east the Italian plains. It was the mountainous background of the Italian and Austrian armies and changing of hands during the course of the war is the story of the whole campaign.

The Madonna which has now taken her place on the summit was placed here in 1916 by Cardinal Sarto, patriarch of Venice, in a ceremony of the most solemn kind. The Madonna, who was in Alaska, on his way to San Francisco and will arrive in about a week.

LEMON GROVE, Sept. 5.—The condition of Mrs. William Marks of San Francisco, who is seriously ill in San Francisco hospital, is unchanged at last report. Mr. Marks and son, Paul, who were staying on their orange grove here, were summoned and are with her. The elder Bowen, who was in Alaska, is on his way to San Francisco and will arrive in about a week.

TO STAGE RALLY.
TAFT, Sept. 5.—Superintendent Gray of Taft Union high school, announces that there will be a rally in the high school building next Tuesday at 8 a. m., and which the people of Taft to attend, especially the parents of students. There will be speakers and a number of important matters taken under consideration.

Volume of Trade Is Reported Heavier

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The dollar value of sales of thirty representative department stores and mail order houses in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District during July declined 12.9 per cent, compared with July, 1920, according to John Perrin, chairman of the board and federal reserve agent. Mr. Perrin, said, however, that present retail prices were reported to average 30 per cent less than in July of last year, and the value of the average sale was reported by eleven stores as 15.3 per cent less, indicating that the physical volume of trade continues to be greater than it was a year ago.

The amount of the average sale reported by eleven firms was $2.20 in July, compared with $2.52 in June, and $2.76 in July, 1920.

Collections were said by thirteen firms to be good, but eleven others characterized them as only fair.

INTERNATIONAL COURT JUDGES ARE NOMINATED

Final Establishment of Court Is Held Assured

Two American Judges Are On List of Candidates

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—Nominations for the 15 judges of the International Court of Justice, which have been made by most of the national delegations at the Hague Court of Arbitration, are said to assure plenty of excellent material to choose from when the election is reached toward the end of the program of the second annual session of the League of Nations Assembly which opens here tomorrow.

Final establishment of the world tribunal has been assured by the ratification of the protocol by more than the 31 states required to make that act valid and there is every reason to believe, officials say, that the court will be in action before the end of the present year.

Two Americans, Elihu Root and Dr. Roscoe Pound, appear among the official candidates submitted. Mr. Root has been nominated by the United States, Italy, Brazil and Bolivia. The President's Justice, which may fall to a national whose government is not represented in the League of Nations.

The other nominations present a number of interesting features. Each country nominates four candidates, but two of these must belong to other nationalities. Great Britain has only made one nomination—that of Viscount Robert Finlay—and this example has been followed by her dependencies.

Four other countries have failed to make use of their full right of nomination. In a number of instances this right has been employed to accentuate the solidarity of various racial or religious groups, as those of Scandinavia, South America and the Little Entente countries.

Thus the Swiss have nominated two of their own countrymen, a Norwegian and a Dane; the Norwegians, a Dane and a Swede; the Danes, a Swede and a Norwegian; in addition to two Danes. The list of nominations submitted by the Czechoslovak group consists of one Czechoslovakian, one Yugoslavian, one Rumanian and one Greek.

Prior to the establishment of the International Court of Justice, a number of important political questions will come before the assembly. Foremost among these is the dispute between the Trans-Alaska pipeline, which the United States has agreed to have built, and the Soviet Union, which has agreed to have it built.

The dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union over the Alaskan pipeline is one of the most important questions that will come before the assembly. The United States has agreed to have the pipeline built, and the Soviet Union has agreed to have it built.

Spittoon Abolished By Women's Advent

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Woman's advent into public life is causing the gradual but sure extinction of the spittoon and the sawdust box in courtrooms, according to the observation of Harriet Reed, first woman arbitrator of the Illinois industrial commission, whose duties take her to many of the courthouses in the state.

"The spittoon and its brother, the sawdust box," said Miss Reed, "are becoming almost as scarce as the buffalo. Even the boldest and baddest of men seem to have some hesitancy about exhibiting before women their fondness for the spittoon."

"My work as arbitrator takes me the round of courthouses and city halls, and I notice a decided change for the better. Public buildings are much cleaner than they were ten years ago. I attribute it to women's advent into public life."

"Women's clubs, interested in community service, are responsible generally for the women's movement in courthouses. Women's influence is seen also in the better kept courthouses lawns and the settees scattered about."

"Frequency with which women visit city and county court buildings is also quite noticeable now. It is not unusual to come across women county officers, and at several of my hearings women and girls from the various offices come in to listen to compensation cases."

"I am often asked if I handle women's cases only. No; I handle all the cases in the particular locality to which I am sent, and the cases range from a pin scratch to a broken back, and from vaccination to seven-year term."

ATTACKS MISS HANKIN
MISS HANKIN, Sept. 5.—Launching an attack on Miss Jeanette Hankin, former representative in Congress from Missouri, as having with others, framed the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill for the purpose of spreading birth control propaganda, Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma, has set forth her objections to the maternity bill in an address she has written to be entered into the Congressional Record.

will not be admitted until it is too late for her to raise it. Several of the reports of the submitted, like those of the Temporary Disarmament Commission, the Advisory Committee on Disarmament, and the Provisional Economic and Financial Commission, must necessarily lead to reference to the American attitude toward the League and suggestions for future action or inaction in relation to this attitude.

Other reports of the same kind, which will provide the bulk of the business to be transacted, are as follows: By the Council on the Conditions of the Committee on Amendments to the Covenant; by the committee appointed to examine the work of the treaty registration clause of the Covenant; by the International Blockade Commission; by the Advisory Committee on Communications and Transit; by the International Conference on the Traffic in Women and Children; by the committee appointed to investigate the work of the Secretariat and the Labor Office; by the Committee on the Allocation of Expenses; and by the Council on the proposed international co-ordination of intellectual work.

Four non-permanent members of the Council, to serve for another year, are to be elected before the assembly adjourns and this may provide a surprise. The council members are to be elected for two years, by Belgium. The little country of King Albert feels that its part in the great war conflict is to remain in the Council so long as questions relating to the Treaty of Versailles remain unsettled, while other countries feel that Belgium should now give away to some other nation in order to make the Council as widely representative as possible.

Hen Tempermental Says Poultryman

DURHAM, N. H., Sept. 5.—The hen is a temperamental bird and must be kept entertained.

The secret of success with a laying stock is never to let the hens become bored. When the hens lose interest in life the poultryman must vary the routine. These are some of the rules laid down by the Rev. Marshall Dawson of Stroud, Conn., who besides being a popular Congregational clergyman, is a successful poultryman. He spoke at a recent conference of rural pastors and religious workers at New Hampshire college here, taking for his subject "Profitable Side Lines for Ministers."

Mr. Dawson took up poultry raising to supplement his income from preaching and has made a study of "hen psychology."

Demand Bright Hued Umbrellas

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Bright hued umbrellas are twice as much in demand as a year ago, manufacturers declare. They look expectantly for the day when street crowds in rainy weather will be just as vivid as those who rally forth with cheerful garb on fair days.

Rainy days in New York this summer have not presented such a dull picture on the streets as in the past, when the black umbrella was the only kind to be seen. The working girls who must go into the business thoroughfares in inclement weather, have developed a penchant for umbrellas of purple, brown, orange and particularly blue, and others have taken up this cheerful challenge to the darker side of nature.

LABOR DAY IS QUIET THROUGH VALLEY CITIES

Colored People Hold
Giant Barbecue
At Park

Baseball Attracts Big
Crowds In Four
Cities

Special to The Republican
PORTERVILLE, Sept. 5.—The day of old time southern barbecue, given today in Murry Park by the colored people of Porterville, drew a large crowd of merry-makers from all over the valley. Many white residents of the city also joined in the day's festivities. The principal speaker of the day was Rev. A. M. Middle, colored pastor of Oakland, who gave a graphic history of the gradual elevation of the negro race in this country. In his address, Rev. Middle gave evidence to prove his contention that the colored man had become a dominant figure in the nation's life.

The big barbecue was especially popular with the colored folks, who dined with all the good things that give zest to an outdoor feast. The afternoon was devoted to sports of various kinds, the singing of old time southern melodies and hymns, and more speaking by local colored speakers.

Quiet At Madera
MADERA, Sept. 5.—Madera enjoyed a quiet Labor Day today with all business houses closed. No special program was presented. A large crowd witnessed the valley league contest this afternoon.

Hold Mass Meeting
COALINGA, Sept. 5.—No regular Labor Day program was held here today, although a mass meeting of citizens was held at the Liberty Air-dome tonight at which addresses concerning Labor Day activities and re-education were delivered. A large crowd attended this valley league baseball game this afternoon.

Parade At Taft
TAFT, Sept. 5.—A monster Labor Day parade was held in this city this evening at 8 o'clock. A large number of workers of the fields marched in the parade, and the local order of Moose also participated. The parade was also held to show in the line of march.

The parade here today was the only observance of Labor Day, the workers being too busy in their various lines of endeavor to prepare a program of events for the entire day.

Porterville Closed
PORTERVILLE, Sept. 6.—While there was no local observance of Labor Day, all places of business were closed. Many taking advantage of the two-day holiday left for the various resorts while the opportunity was still open.

Newman Is Quiet
NEWMAN, Sept. 5.—Business houses here in compliance with a request of the Chamber of Commerce were closed Labor Day, but are to remain open on Admission Day, Sept. 6. No program of observance of the labor holiday was held here.

Postpone Picnic
EXETER, Sept. 5.—The big picnic which was to have been given today at Monney Grove by Canton members has been postponed. Notice of the date will be given later.

Attend Ball Game
HANFORD, Sept. 5.—With all business houses closed today, Hanford people spent a quiet Labor Day at home. A large crowd attended the Hanford-Vanilla baseball game this afternoon.

Reedley Syrians
Hold First Meeting

REEDLEY, Sept. 5.—The first public religious service of the Greek Orthodox church, was held in Reedley on Sunday, at 11 a. m., in the Episcopal church. The congregation consisted of about fifty Syrians, and the services were conducted by Rev. Makarios Sayfey, a Syrian priest, whose home is in Visalia, Minn. The service was a most striking and patriotic appearance, adding to the impressiveness of the religious service. The service was rendered in Arabic and Greek, and the choir were four Syrian gentlemen, of local residence.

In the afternoon, public baptism was administered to several children, at the home of John Kefoury, of Reedley, and at Orange Cove at the home of a Syrian family. Several Syrian families from the valley were in attendance at all of these services.

600,000 Acres of Tulare Co. Lands Freed of Rodents

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 5.—According to W. H. Riley, superintendent of rodent control for Tulare county, there are 600,000 acres of valley lands in this county practically free from rodents. Except for a few isolated spots, the lands of the county are commercially free from the pests, says the control superintendent.

RANCHER SHOT ACCIDENTALLY

Timery Kincaid of Poplar Will Recover

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 5.—Timery Kincaid, a well known rancher of the Poplar district, was the first victim of the dove hunting season. While attempting to kill a brace of birds from a wagon last evening, his shotgun was accidentally discharged, the charge entering his left chest and arm.

The injured man was rushed to the Porterville hospital, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Barber. Although painfully wounded, it is not thought that his wounds are dangerous. Flash from his left side and arm was torn by the shell deep enough to bare the bones. His body in the region of the heart was filled with leaden pellets, but fortunately none of the shot penetrated the heart.

Kincaid had just returned from a dove hunting trip. Reaching his father's ranch, he climbed out of the wagon and stood his shotgun against the wheel. As he reached into the wagon for his game, the horses started up, discharging the gun.

OROSI NEWS.
—OROSI, Sept. 5.—A motoring party composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ethridge, Miss Dorothy Ethridge, and T. M. Ethridge left Saturday for California Hot Springs where they will remain for several weeks.

Miss Charles Hugh spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Shunk in Fresno.

Miss Ethel McPherson is assisting in the local postoffice, and on Oct. 1 will become postmistress, succeeding R. Baldwin who now holds the position.

Miss Ruth Hedrick left Friday evening for Pasadena, where she will enroll as a student in the high school.

O. H. Hansen has been enjoying a hunting trip in the mountains.

GENERAL MANAGER

—To our friends I just want to open the door and talk with you for a little while about our Buyers Sale.

—At our last round table meeting we decided to plan an extensive Fall and Winter campaign and from this meeting grew the united desire for a "Tag o' War" or as named Buyers Return Sale. I sent each buyer to the markets with the one purpose of fighting for low prices on dependable goods so that his or her individual dept. should be the banner winner. This means lower prices for you, of which I personally urge that you take full advantage, this being the best time to buy fall merchandise for 1921.

—A beautiful silk banner has been made reading "Winner of the 1921 Buyers Sale." This will hang daily in the department making the greatest increase over last year's sales and to the one who holds it the most days the banner will be presented at the close of the sale Sept. 17th. Watch for today's winner in Wednesday's Republican.

—I especially wish to impress upon you that our usual high standard of merchandise will be displayed and by the way it will pay you to read every item upon page three of Monday's Republican.

—Thank you for your time in reading this message and I just know you'll profit by our Tag o' War for store honors.

TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY

Reedley Citizens Back
Big Program

REEDLEY, Sept. 5.—That the people of Reedley are going to take keen interest in the Armistice Day celebration in Reedley on November 11 is evident from the number who responded to the call for a meeting of the committee at the high school recently.

W. B. Marlar, civilian marshal for the day, had charge of the meeting and discussed the plans of the advisory committee as well as giving a brief outline of the tentative program for the day.

The military parade is to be one of the big features. This will be headed by W. C. Hawthorn, chairman of the County Conference of the American Legion, whose official position for the event will be military marshal of the day.

Beide him, in the parade will ride W. B. Marlar, civilian marshal of the day, who will be at the head of all other events.

A big barbecue is to be another feature for which Albert C. Crosby will be responsible.

Football in the forenoon and afternoon will also be on the program, the game in the afternoon being between two American Legion teams, Reedley and probably Selma.

A patriotic address by some prominent speaker of the American Legion will be one of the features of the program after the barbecue and there will be a rodeo and various forms of amusement to entertain during the afternoon.

A big street dance, fireworks and band concert will be some of the features of interest during the evening. And with J. W. Gilliam in charge of the comic stuff for the day, the public can look for some real comedy during the day and evening.

From indications now the day will go over big and there will not be a dull moment from the time of the salute in the morning until the song sounds for the last round late in the evening.

W. C. T. U. To Open Meeting In Dinuba

DINUBA, Sept. 5.—Mrs. Maude B. Perkins, general secretary of the young people's branch of the W. C. T. U., and Miss Helen Batella, her assistant, both of New York, who had charge of the young people's work at the national convention of the W. C. T. U. just held in San Francisco, will conduct the open air services in front of the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, September 11, according to announcement made today, and a special invitation is being extended to all young people to attend this service and also a reception on Saturday evening, September 10, in honor of these ladies, at the home of Mrs. H. H. Harness, who will entertain them.

W. B. Marlar, civilian marshal for the day, had charge of the meeting and discussed the plans of the advisory committee as well as giving a brief outline of the tentative program for the day.

BUILDING DONE AT RIVERBANK

New Church and School
Being Rushed

RIVERBANK, Sept. 5.—John Madson and sub-contractor of the new grammar school has received two cars Niles filling and started gang masons at work Saturday morning. Mr. Madson says building will be ready for occupancy within the next limit.

Work on the new Methodist church is being pushed and it will be ready for roofing this week. Rev. Williams is devoting his full time to overseeing the work and many members of the congregation are giving voluntary labor to assist in the early construction.

H. P. Ross, housemaster at the depot, has taken a thirty day leave of absence and will build himself a five room bungalow on his property in Riverbank. He will also tear down the old Ross home that has stood at the Riverbank ferry crossing since 1888 and is the last residence in Riverbank of the old days that is left except the Catholic church which was built in the seventies.

UNDEGOES OPERATION. LEMON COVE, Sept. 5.—Mrs. E. D. Cox of Fresno, who was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. SECOND SECTION

MUCH INTEREST HERE IN GUARD ORGANIZATION

One Company in Service Another Soon to be Mustered In Effort Is Planned To Form Battalion—In City

The second separate company of infantry, California national guard, recruited in Fresno less than a year ago has had a successful and interesting existence during that brief period.

The recruiting of this Fresno company was begun as a re-organization of Company C, second infantry and completed by Captain L. T. Stephenson of the Fresno officers corps of the United States army who has been so closely associated with the history of military affairs in this community. The company was mustered into service on October 4, 1919, by Major J. E. Sherburn, who at that time was a captain in the quartermasters department of the California national guard.

At the time the company was mustered in the Fresno camp fifty-five names were recruited. Kapt coming in at quite a rapid rate following the muster until at one time the company numbered one hundred and twenty-five men. This strong nucleus was reduced by discharge, under orders from the adjutant general's office, to 94 officers and enlisted men which comprised the second separate company at this time.

Some time elapsed following the muster before the company was fully equipped owing to the magnitude of the task presented in procuring supplies and equipment to this company. Various parts of California about the same time. The company was completely outfitted on January 15, 1921. The first drill was held on the evening of January 18, 1921. L. T. Stephenson was commissioned captain of the company which was then designated as the Fresno company, second infantry, California national guard. Oscar D. Collins and Edwin L. Dyer were commissioned as first and second lieutenants respectively.

The Fresno company has been selected and daily commissioned as the second lieutenant in the Fresno company, second infantry, California national guard. The company was then designated as the Fresno company, second infantry, California national guard.

Drills have been held each Monday night since the company was organized. The first of these was held on Monday night, January 18, 1921. The company was then designated as the Fresno company, second infantry, California national guard.

The first public appearance of the company was on the memorable occasion when home was paid at the funeral of Homer H. Stevens, first of the Fresno company, second infantry, California national guard.

On April 22, the entire company appeared in the military section of the great Rialto day parade, and was received by the city and military public alike in a manner which is highly commendable.

The next public appearance was in the Memorial day parade, which was held in the city of Fresno on May 30, 1921.

Encampment at Yosemite. Intensive work in close order drill and perfection in the manual of arms was continued at the Yosemite camp, where the company was encamped from July 15 to 25, at Camp Yosemite.

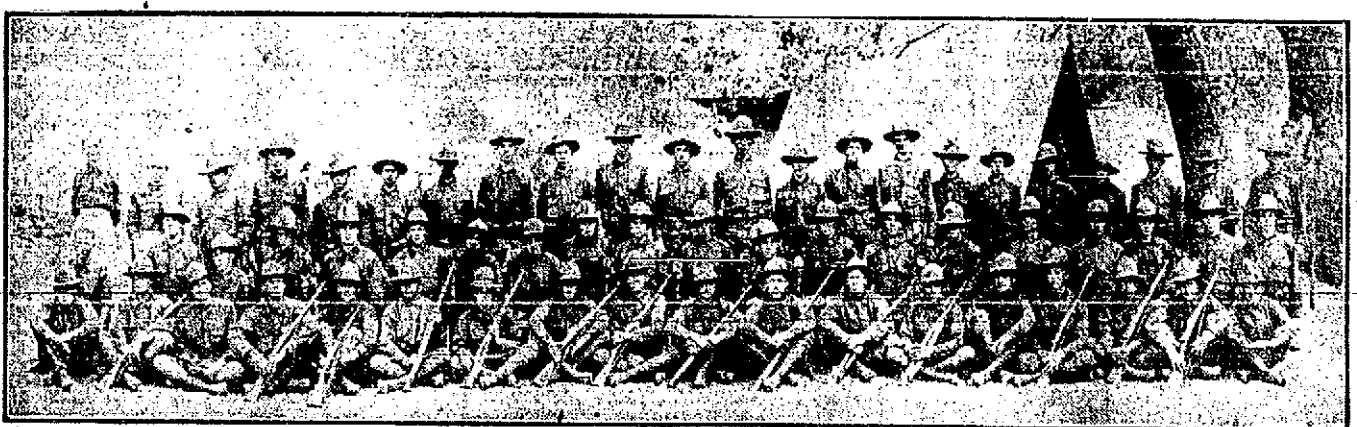

When 60 men left Fresno for that world famous spot to receive intensive training in a camp designed to give to the men who attended most of the good that the army camp could give without the suffering and hardship generally attendant upon military encampment in the open.

The second separate company became a part of the 18th Battalion at this encampment, with Major David Carter as commander.

Private funeral services for O. J. Carter will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Stanger Christian church. Interment will be in Mendocino cemetery.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Nellie Carter, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Emma Schellinger, Mrs. Rose Schellinger, Mrs. Olin Schellinger, and four sons, Wilbur and Frank Carter of Sanger, and four brothers, Dan S. and Ben S. Carter of Fresno, M. W. Carter of Lincoln, and S. M. Carter of Wyoming. Funeral arrangements were made by Lyle & Sons.

Members of the second separate company of infantry of the California National Guard, taken when they were participating in the state encampment in the Yosemite Valley a few weeks ago. Another company is to be formed.

MASONS FLOOD DINUBA; GRAND MASTER THERE

300 Valley Lodge Men Witness Degree Work Banquet Is Served In Honor of Nobles of State

DINUBA, Sept. 5.—Saturday evening marked an epoch in Masonic circles in Dinuba, when lodge members from all over the forty-eighth Masonic district gathered here to witness the conferring of the third degree of Masonry by George Frederic Riddon, grand master of Masons of California.

Grand Master Riddon was accompanied here also by William S. Sherman, grand senior warden of California, and acting as senior warden, together with well known Masons from all over the San Joaquin valley, assisted in conferring the third degree on J. H. Newman, chairman of the board of supervisors of Tulare county.

Over 300 prominent Masons from the valley, numbering members of the order from Fresno, Visalia, Exeter, Lindsay, Porterville, Selma, Kingsburg, Reedley, Orosi, Sanger and other cities of the valley. Following the conferring of the degree, a banquet was served in the banquet room, and talks by the prominent visitors listened to.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the grand officers of the company, with several of the members left for a short holiday at Giant Forest, in the Sequoia Park.

Those taking part in the work were: George D. Riddon, grand master of California; William S. Sherman, grand senior warden; Henry E. Verble, inspector of forty-eighth district; P. W. Miller, inspector of forty-ninth district; Alfred Hagson, traverser lodge; T. H. Floyd, Dinuba lodge; Harry S. Foster, inspector forty-seventh district; Thomas J. Baker, grand lecturer; Ray D. Leach, traverser lodge; Charles H. Hough, traverser lodge; and Geo. H. Higgins, of Dinuba lodge.

PLAN RELIEF MEETING. A public meeting will be held on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Zion church, San Diego and E streets in the interests of the luncheon fund to aid the starving people of Russia. Extra money is being collected for this fund.

FACES CHECK CHARGES. William Reitz, 37, was taken to Long Beach to check charges of passing fictitious checks yesterday by Deputy Bang, after spending Sunday night in the Fresno county jail. Reitz was arrested at Lake Creek Sunday morning on information that he was passing checks. The sheriff's office had been working a week on the case.

Home of Aged Man Destroyed By Fire

A blazing fire broke out yesterday evening at the home of an aged man at 848 Thorne street, and destroyed the house. He was doing some work in his garden when his crippled grand daughter attempted to light the stove. It blazed up, catching fire to the walls of the house.

Arnfield was slightly burned while attempting to rescue some of his belongings from the house. He was given first aid at the emergency hospital.

As no insurance was carried on the house, valued at $300, including furnishings, neighbors immediately started a fund to aid him in securing a new home.

A second fire almost at the same time yesterday caused about $25 damage in the roof of the home of George Rollis at 3217 E street. The fire started while Rollis was cleaning the kitchen stove.

Two special trains containing cast-iron delegates to the thirtieth annual convention of the Consolidated Order of Hoo-Hoos, which will be held here September 8 to 11, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles this morning. After a day's sojourn in the southern city, the delegates will make the last jump of the trip, arriving in Fresno at 1:15 Wednesday morning for the big national convention which opens Thursday morning.

It was said that more than 250 delegates with their families will be in attendance at the Fresno convention. These delegates represent practically every section of the United States.

The last day of the convention will be held at General Grant Park, under the big trees. This will be followed by the "embalming of the park."

Chase S. Osborn Jr., editor of The Republican and The Herald, arrived in Vancouver, B. C., yesterday after an extended tour of the Far East and is expected to reach Fresno by the end of the week. He left Fresno on May 15 and sailed from San Francisco about 10 days later.

On his trip he visited, among other points of interest, Yokohama, Tokyo, Manila and toured through China, Manchuria, Korea, Siberia and visited the Philippines. Osborn made the trip for the purpose of studying business and political conditions in the Orient.

TO GIVE PLAY AT CARNIVAL. Three performances of "The News-Boy Dream," written by William Slater will be given at the Union Hospital carnival, the day to be attended later. Aided by Mrs. Alice Reitz and Mrs. Charles Perkins, Mr. Slater is rehearsing the children for their parts in the play. He stated that he is confident that Fresno will enjoy a treat while viewing the play.

OVER 85,000 SEE YOSEMITE

All Previous Records Are Eclipsed. CAMP CURRY, Yosemite, Sept. 5.—In the race for premier honors as the foremost national park in the country, the Yosemite is running neck and neck with its sister, the Yellowstone. Already this year there have come into the boundaries of the Yosemite the great total of 85,854 people which is over 15,000 more than last year's total count. While in years past the Yellowstone has come in the winner, those best able to judge are all predicting that Yosemite will come in the winner in this season's contest.

Of these great numbers of vacationists, about half have been attracted to the first half of September, and the other half to the second half. The large public camping grounds provided by the government. Of the remainder, about 22,000 have registered at Camp Curry, while the rest have been cared for at the other lodges and hotels within the park. They have come to Yosemite by every known method of transportation, on foot and on horseback, in carriages and wagons and in streams of automobiles, by swift flying motorcycles and the old-fashioned but safe and comfortable stagecoach. Even the airplane was not left out for the great birds of the air alight in Yosemite as easily as elsewhere.

Most among the methods of travel is the automobile. Great numbers of these summer nomads have found their way over the mountain highway to the world's greatest geyser. Up to the first of September there had been 17,358 motor vehicles carrying 46,600 people. Second in honors came the tourists who travel by rail with "hobo" and baggage who have the last running of the convention horse and carriage. 3,317 persons, 10,000 horses and 1,750 mules made the trip by this method.

In order, the expedition expects to make a good fight with a total of 233, while their brothers on horse brought in 123 charging motorcycles carrying 143 passengers. Not to be left out of the parade of the old-fashioned horse and buggy entered the race but made a poor showing with only 12 at the finish. Last in this unique grand parade came the birdmen who have brought in five planes with eleven people aboard.

So the traveling public have run the whole gamut of transportation and with a full month to go, a new record for national park travel seems sure to be set up. If you are planning on a vacation at this time of the year, come to Yosemite. It will help you set up a new record for California and her scenic beauty.

ATTEND CONCERT DANCE. EXETER, Sept. 5.—The Saturday night concert and dance was well attended. The evenings are getting cool enough really to enjoy a dance out of doors, and the attendance shows that the people are taking advantage of that fact. The Exeter concert band is to be congratulated upon the fact that it is putting up such a good grade of music.

Insurance Men Are Off To Conventions

Two well known insurance men of Fresno are on their way to the east to attend conventions of insurance organizations. Charles Erickson left last night for Seattle on the first leg of a five weeks trip which will take him to several large eastern cities. He will be a delegate from the County Mutual Insurance Company of the United States to be held in St. Louis Sept. 23-25. In Seattle he will confer with members of the Pacific Coast conference. Arthur J. Hill, California manager of the State Life Insurance Company of Indiana whose local offices are at 1237 Fresno street, will attend the convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters, which opens in Cleveland this week.

Manager Hill is California chairman for the national association and secretary of the Northern California Life Underwriters Association. At the close of the convention he will visit New York and other cities, including Indianapolis, the home office of the company he represents.

Funeral Today For Pioneer of Fresno

Last rites for Charles M. Howard, Fresno county pioneer, who died at his home in Temperance colony on Sunday, will be held this morning from the Stephens & Bean chapel at 19 o'clock. Interment will be made in Mountain View cemetery, in charge of the Odd Fellows.

Howard had been a resident of Fresno county for more than thirty years. He came to this state as a boy with his parents in an ox-train. He had resided in California for 68 years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Maude O'Brien, and two sons, Dr. O. J. Howard, well known Fresno dentist, and A. F. Howard, proprietor of the Santa Fe drug store here.

INJURED BY BLOW. Three stitches were required to close the lacerations received by Thomas Ruel, 65, 1261 J street, yesterday morning when, according to an emergency hospital report, a man hit him. Dr. C. M. Vanderburgh dressed the injuries.

CUTS NEW TEETH. MODESTO, Cal., Sept. 5.—John Hayter, veteran of the Civil War, 73 years of age, living at Watford is cutting a new set of teeth. Two molars are already in place and indications point to others showing soon.

FOUR INJURED. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5.—Four firemen were injured, one seriously, in fighting a spectacular blaze which swept the Metropolitan block, a five story office building and a downtown landmark. Herman Koehler, janitor, his wife and four small children trapped in their living rooms on the fifth floor, were rescued after overcome by smoke. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

HUNGARIANS TO GET LAND. BUDAPEST, Sept. 6.—When Hungary turns over West Hungary to Austria, as the treaty of peace requires, then and there, some land will be taken over by the Hungarians. Hungary will at the same time present to the republic commission a bill for about 80,000,000 crowns damages from the Hungarian invasion with the attendant confiscations and requisitions, which Hungary describes as "looting."

SIGN CONTRACT FOR BIG SHOW

Carnival Attractions Are Arranged. A contract for the appearance here of the W. E. Guff shows at the carnival being staged in the interest of a fire children's ward in the projected union hospital was signed at a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Women's auxiliary to the hospital association.

The carnival, given under the auspices of the auxiliary of which Mrs. Mabel E. Tripp is president, will be held for ten days, beginning Saturday, on the hospital square, beginning Saturday. A score of amusement attractions have been arranged. Two of the features of the carnival will be the coronation of the queen on Tuesday night, September 13, a position for which eleven popular young Fresno girls are aspiring, and the celebration on the following day of the Mexican national holiday, to be participated in by the Latin societies of the city.

The Guff carnival company, which is just concluding a seventeen day engagement at San Francisco, carries a train of 15 cars with an even dozen attractions, including a roller coaster, and other "thrill" features. The concessions are being operated under the direction of the women's auxiliary, whose members will also have charge of their own stands, such as refreshments and cutting bouquets, and open air dance stage, and a country store.

So many attractions have been arranged that they will overflow the hospital lot, having dimensions of 374 by 215 by 33 feet, along the sidewalk. Invitations have been issued to the auxiliary for the inmates of the Old People's home and the new workers of the city to be the guests of the carnival on special days set aside for them. The old folks will be entertained on Sunday, Sept. 11 by a children's picnic and sacred concert, while the date for the "over 60s" has not yet been arranged.

Dates Announced For Registration

The Fresno high school will open September 13, at 8:30. The registration of students should be made as follows: Seniors, Tuesday at 1 p. m.; Juniors, Wednesday, September 7, beginning at 9 a. m.; Sophomores, Thursday, September 8, beginning at 9 a. m. All registrations will be made in the library of the new building.

Congressman To Speak To Lions

The full speaking time of the Lions Club luncheon at the Hotel Fresno today will be devoted to Congressmen Henry E. Barbour. He will talk on important matters before Congress and national topics in general. He will be the only speaker.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL. All Odd Fellows are requested to meet at Odd Fellows hall, Broadway and Myrtle, at 9:30 o'clock this morning to attend the funeral of Brother Chase M. Howard.

FOREIGN BORN POPULATION OF FRESNO COUNTY IS 27,000

People Gathered Here From all Parts of the World; Figures on Literacy Are Given by Census Bureau in Washington

That the attraction and lure of Fresno county, with its many wonderful opportunities, is universal in its appeal is strikingly demonstrated by figures just released by the census bureau in bulletins that are a distillation of the latest count of noses of Uncle Sam's nieces and nephews. The figures show that not only has this section become the mecca and home of Americans from every corner of the union, but during the past decade there has been a larger influx of foreign born persons whose nativity represents almost every country on the globe.

Although one out of every five residents of the country is foreign born, the percentage of those having an alien nativity was slightly reduced during the past decade. The number of foreign born whites, based on the percentage figures given out, is placed at about 27,000 out of a total population of 123,773.

In almost every county of the state the percentage of foreign born whites has decreased, and in 25 of the 58 counties there were also decreases in the number of foreigners, although Fresno county comes in the former classification.

20 Per Cent Foreign Born. The percentage of foreign born here for the 1920 census count is given at 20.9 per cent, a decrease of but 0.2 since 1910. In the face of this large increase in the actual number of foreign born, including several races whose opportunity for education has been handicapped, the percentage of literacy in the county has been materially reduced. In Fresno city the literacy figures were about 11 per cent in the decade.

These are the outstanding facts of local interest in a series of census bulletins released yesterday. They show that the population of the state is divided by percentages as follows: Native white, 75.4; Foreign born white, 19.9; Japanese, 3.1; Chinese, 0.6; Indian, 0.8 and negro, 1.1 per cent. The foreign born white population, which was 517,250 in 1910, jumped to 631,662 in 1920, an increase of 23.3 per cent. During the same period the native white population made a phenomenal jump, from 1,743,423 to 2,552,049, or a percentage increase of 46.3.

Half of State Population Natives. About one half, 51.4 per cent, of the white population of the state consists of native Americans of native white parentage. The total native whites of native parentage being 1,677,355, while the foreign born whites are represented by 631,662. The census shows that the total native whites of native parentage, 2,355 are of foreign or mixed parentage, 63,768 are of foreign birth, 4,680 are Indians, 4,471 are Chinese, and 5,800 Japanese. The number of illiterate natives is given at 16,773.

In the total population 10 years of age and over the percentage of illiteracy of the state is 3.3, a diminution from 1910 when it was 3.7. In the case of negroes the percentage declined from 7.1 to 4.7 and in the case of native whites from 0.5 to 0.4. There is more illiteracy in the rural districts of the state than in the cities, the percentage being 5.1 for the rural population and but 2.1 for the urban. By counties the percentage of illiteracy ranges from 1.3 in Tehama county to 1.4, the low illiteracy decreases.

In Fresno city the census workers found 1,745 illiterate persons, including 350 who had foreign birth and 1,395 natives. The percentage of illiteracy is 4.7, a decrease from 1910 when it was 5.1. Of the larger cities of the state Fresno is second in the percentage of illiterates.

The cities, the number and percentages of illiterates as compared with found, follows: Sacramento, 1,262, 2.2, an increase from 1.4 per cent in 1910. San Francisco, 3,250, 1.3, a decrease from 2.1. Berkeley, 1,077, 1.66, a decrease from 1.1. Pasadena, 1,125, 1.3, an increase from 1.1. Fresno, 1,745, 4.7, a decrease from 5.1.

Figures on Literacy. The figures show that 22.5 per cent, or less than one-fourth of the people in the state of California are either infants or children under 15 years of age; 7.1 per cent are young people 15 to 19 years old; 25.8 per cent, over two-fifths, are men and women in the prime of life, being from 20 to 44 years old; while 26.3 per cent, being 44 years of age and over, are well along in middle life. If they have not reached old age.

The urban population as compared with the rural shows some rather striking differences in age, the percentage 20 to 44 years of age being 14.2 for the urban population as compared with 9.3 for the rural, while the percentage under 15 years of age is 21.8 in the urban population as compared with 14.2 for the rural. These differences may indicate larger families of children in the country than in the city, but probably indicate also the fact that country childrens they grow up being able to flock to the cities thereby increasing the city population of the cities at the expense of the rural districts.

About two-thirds of the population, about 70 per cent, are old enough to vote, being 21 or over; and in this (Continued on Page 18.)

from 3.9. In those, 1,951, 3.94, an increase from 3.2. Los Angeles, 10,242, 2.69, an increase from 1.9. San Diego, 1,006, 1.6; the same as the previous count. Stockton, 511, 2.7; no change. The census compilers found that there are 376,392 children between the ages of 1 and 13 in the state, and of this number 352,699, or 93.7, were reported as attending school. In 1910 the percentage was 81.6. Of the children between 14 and 15 years of age but 83.1 per cent were in school, and of those 16 and 17 years of age the drop was to 84.7 per cent.

The percentage of children attending schools was larger in the city than in the country districts, the percentage for children in the urban population being 93.7, while in the rural population it was 92.7. Urban, according to the census definition, includes all towns and cities of 2500 population or more.

Figures on Age. The figures show that 22.5 per cent, or less than one-fourth of the people in the state of California are either infants or children under 15 years of age; 7.1 per cent are young people 15 to 19 years old; 25.8 per cent, over two-fifths, are men and women in the prime of life, being from 20 to 44 years old; while 26.3 per cent, being 44 years of age and over, are well along in middle life. If they have not reached old age.

TAFT SCHOOLS TO OPEN TODAY; 1400 TO ATTEND

Additional Elementary Teachers Are Added For Year

Building and Equipment Are In First Class Condition

TAFT, Sept. 5.—In pursuance to a general county program prepared by County Superintendent Chas. W. Taft, the Taft elementary school will open for registration on Tuesday, September 6, while Wednesday will see the happy faces of the four hundred boys and girls of Taft back to their classrooms for the regular routine of class work.

Twelve new teachers have been added to the elementary schools this year. Among the plans for the new year will be the erection of a commodious new building to take care of the upper grades and planned on modern lines up-to-the-minute in every particular, affording the children of Taft as complete a school plant as can be found in the state.

The new building will be surrounded by ample school grounds that the district will see properly supervised and kept open for the recreation of children throughout the year.

Two units of the new kindergarten department are now under construction which, when completed, will also be models of their kind.

The school board is firmly in every effort put forth to make the new department an efficient and harmonious machine working solidly for the benefit and education of the children of Taft.

The complete staff of the elementary schools for the present year is as follows: Superintendent, Chas. W. Taft; Principals, Miss Sarah A. Gray, Conley grammar school; Mrs. Florence H. Willis, Conley primary; Mrs. Elsie F. Hayden, Taft primary; teachers, Miss Marie Parkhurst, domestic science; Mrs. Thelma White, assistant; Mrs. Marie Parlow, supervisor of music; Mrs. Adeline Wynn, drawing; Mrs. Lillian G. Giddens, manual training; Miss Gladys O. Dow, corrective work; Kenneth Robins, physical education; Mrs. Ruth A. Martin, assistant; Miss Edith G. Giddens, kindergarten; Miss Helen M. White, Miss C. V. Phillips, Mrs. Pearl Hubbard, Miss Margarette Davis, Miss Evelyn Maxey, Mrs. Laura Niemeyer, Miss Eva Elkin, Miss Adela De Rosa, Miss Almida Blosser, Miss Annetta G. Norton, Mrs. Virginia G. Giddens, Mrs. Ophelia Morgan, Miss P. Hubbard, Miss Agnes Biscoe, Mrs. V. D. Brannan, Miss Edith Sharp, Mrs. J. G. Calhoun, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Evelyn Walters, Miss Ester Pickensbury, Mrs. Kathryn Thorpe and Miss Madeline Davison.

The position of school nurse has as yet not been filled due to the fact that candidates so far have not measured up to the requirements of the position.

Mr. Gray, the superintendent of the Taft Union school for the coming year, has moved his family to this city and has been busy for the last two weeks in arranging the school work for the coming year.

Newman C. of C. To Convene Thursday

NEWMAN, Sept. 5.—The weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon, which was to have been resumed Wednesday noon has been postponed to Thursday following owing to expected guests being away on the earlier date. J. H. Letts of Palo Alto, a well known home-builder connected with a home-building association, will attend the luncheon and explain his building plans to the directors and go into the subject in detail. The Chamber of Commerce is taking steps to relieve the housing situation here.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY SOCIETY

A pleasant motor party left Dunlap Friday morning and went to General Grant park for the day, although it stormed here. Thursday night, the rain was in fine shape. After leaving Dunlap, there was some mud but it did not interfere with the party. The party, which was made up of the Dunlap family and a few friends, were soaked with rain from the night previous. They were driving over the hills when they found the camp fire drying out their bedding and clothing from the previous night. Effort To Avoid Car
Proves Fatal To
P. E. Cecil

Special to The Republican.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 5.—Percy Edward Cecil, an employee of the Maca Street Iron Works, San Francisco, died at a local hospital last night from injuries received when his motorcycle skidded while rounding a sharp turn near Chandler on the Ridge Route, 50 miles southeast of Bakersfield, throwing him head foremost to the ground. Cecil sustained a fractured skull and other major injuries, physicians announced.

With R. Cooley, a fellow employee of the northern firm, Cecil was traveling to Los Angeles. He had planned to spend a few days at the southern beaches. Both men were riding motorcycles.

The two men had become separated a few minutes before the accident occurred. Cooley riding at a good rate of speed was in the lead and did not know his companion until he had covered several miles. When he turned back and reached the scene of the mishap a large crowd of passing motorists had gathered around Cecil's unconscious form.

C. B. Johnson, a Los Angeles business man and his wife, were the only witnesses to the accident. They were en route to San Francisco, according to the story told members of the coroner's office. Cecil approached from the west and made a quick turn to avoid hitting their car which resulted in the mishap. Johnson declared that he stopped his car just as Cecil began to slide to the ground in front of his wheels. The car did not strike the motorcycle's body as far as could be learned.

The Johnsons brought the injured man to this city.

PORTERVILLE HI TO OPEN SOON

Has Largest Student
Body in County

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 5.—The Porterville Union high school, with the largest enrollment of any high school in Tulare county, will open for the fall term, Sept. 12. This will be the last term in the old building as it is expected that the new $350,000 structure, authorized last spring by a bond issue, will be ready for occupancy next fall. According to Prof. W. A. Ferguson, principal of the high school, arrangements have been made to accommodate all pupils who apply. The students occupied cramped quarters last year, but additional room has been provided for this term.

Another bus has been added to the fleet of transportation vehicles, and they will be routed so that no student is more than a mile to get transportation. Rural districts are included in the present high school district.

The full teaching staff, with the subjects they are to teach, has just been given out by Principal Ferguson. They are as follows:

D. H. Lightner, mathematics; Miss Betty Allen, home economics; Miss Grace Miller, physical education; athletics; G. W. Culbertson, history; Miss Louise Doherty, English, drama; Miss W. Bailey, mathematics, science, drawing; B. H. Grimes, science, athletics; A. B. Hamilton, history, mathematics, athletics; B. E. Jamison, science, athletics; L. L. Kegg, manual training, mechanical drawing, athletics; Mrs. L. M. Kegg, study hall, attendance; Miss Laura Keller, home economics; Marion Knott, music, physical education; Miss Evelyn O'Neil, French, Spanish, music; Miss Nurcia Sheels, commercial; Miss Ann Stiner, English; P. F. Stowe, auto mechanics, machine shop; Miss Clara Williams, English.

TRANQUILITY NOTES
TRANQUILITY, Sept. 5.—Funeral services were held in Fresno Tuesday at the Lyle & Ross chapel for Mrs. Marie Lyle Whitson. Many relatives and friends were present to pay their last respects to a dear friend whose smiling face and cheering word will be missed in many circles. The pastor of the First Christian church of Fresno spoke a few encouraging words. The bereaved relatives. The remains were taken to the Fowler cemetery for burial.

Mrs. Whitson was the wife of Mr. K. O. Whitson, father of five children: Lester, Blanche, Lucile, James and Robert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Whitson, of Lathrop, and sister of Edward Lathrop, of Lathrop, and Mrs. Pauline, of Fresno.

News of the death of Miss Fernandez, recently from Porterville, sister of Mr. Fernandez, a resident west of Tranquility, saddened many hearts. The cause is believed to be heart failure.

Earl Edwards has been spending several days in Tranquility in prospect of buying the Excelsior ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Little have returned with their family to Tranquility after several weeks in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall and family left Wednesday for a two weeks' visit to Santa Cruz.

Miss Julia Doughty has returned to Tranquility in preparation to school opening Sept. 19.

Messrs. F. J. Jesse and Solman spent a few days this week in the coast mountains deer hunting. Messrs. Jesse had the good fortune to bring down a buck this being his second for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Marquess have returned from a two weeks' vacation.

COLON O. KILBY.
Well known athlete, who will act as supervisor of physical education at Coalinga high this year.

COALINGA HIGH ELECTS COACH

Colon O. Kilby Will Direct Athletics

COALINGA, Sept. 5.—Colon O. Kilby, who graduated with the class of 1917 from the local high school, has been employed by the trustees of the school to serve as supervisor of physical education in the Coalinga high and intermediate schools and his work begins at the opening of school this week.

Kilby graduated from the University of Redlands last June. While attending that institution for four years he was a member of the Los Angeles Athletic club and made an enviable record for himself in Pacific Coast track and field athletic circles. Kilby twice went East to participate in the Pennsylvania relay carnival and took part in the Olympic trials at Harvard Stadium. He also played with the Varsity baseball and basketball teams at Redlands.

More attention than ever is to be paid physical education in local schools the coming term, according to Principal Chas. L. Geer. In line with the recent state ruling making it compulsory for every student to take 45 minutes' physical training daily for two terms, every period during the day in the Coalinga intermediate and high schools will be devoted to instructing some of the students. Kilby is to have full and direct charge of this work, besides serving as coach of the various athletic teams.

Fireworks Arrive At Tulare For Fair

Special to The Republican.

TULARE, Sept. 5.—A half car load of fireworks arrived by express today for the delivery to the Tulare county fair. These fireworks are being shipped here for the month, instead of one program there will this year be two big nights on the fair grounds. Neither does this mean, say the fair officials, that the 1920 program has been a victim of the withdrawal from the main body of the Tulare troop. Two weeks ago a meeting of those interested in the program was held, the state executive being present, and as an outcome of that meeting the scout county executive, William McElroy, of Modesto, has decided to hand in his resignation which he will do at a meeting called for Tuesday at Modesto. Turlock will send a delegation to the meeting suggesting the disbanding of the county organization.

Turlock Scouts May Disband Soon

TURLOCK, Sept. 5.—Some time ago there was a split in the ranks of the Boy Scout organization as it affected Turlock and it resulted in the withdrawal from the main body of the Turlock troop. Two weeks ago a meeting of those interested in the program was held, the state executive being present, and as an outcome of that meeting the scout county executive, William McElroy, of Modesto, has decided to hand in his resignation which he will do at a meeting called for Tuesday at Modesto. Turlock will send a delegation to the meeting suggesting the disbanding of the county organization.

DUNLAP NEWS.
DUNLAP, Sept. 5.—A. T. Dunlap, of Redwood, was a victim of the speeding mania and was fined $27.50 by Judge Todd of Tulare which was paid.

The school trustees of Mill Creek school district are having the school house re-painted. It will be completed before the opening day, which is Sept. 12.

The rain here last Thursday night has caused a very decided change in the weather, while the precipitation was light it was very heavy for the few minutes it lasted.

A report circulated here to the effect that George Hume is sending workmen into Hume and he will start his saw mill to get out a large amount of lumber to repair the damage that was destroyed by fire this summer.

BAKERSFIELD'S TEACHERS MEET

100 Grade School Heads
Hear Addresses

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 5.—A general meeting of the teachers of the Bakersfield grade schools was held at the Bessie building Saturday morning. About one hundred new and old instructors were present to hear the year's outline of work as discussed by Superintendent C. E. Toole. Each instructor gave an interesting short talk telling what of value he or she had gained from the summer vacation.

At the conclusion of these reports, Miss Letta Stewart, who spent the summer traveling with the Elton White Channing company, read a true story of life in the Cumberland mountains. A short address of welcome was given by Mrs. H. R. Peacock, president of the board of education. R. R. Long and M. P. Flickinger, also members of the board of education, welcomed the teachers to their duties.

County Superintendent of Schools L. E. Chenoweth assured the city teachers of the heart with of the county office to assist and encourage them in any way possible. Miss Sarah H. Redinger, city librarian, explained the manner in which library service is given teachers, and expressed her interest in supervising throughout the library, with educational work of the community.

A classification of the teachers in three groups, substitute, permanent, and non-permanent, was read. At the close of the general session, a meeting of kindergarten teachers was called by Miss Mary Strickland, kindergarten supervisor of the city.

What Every Retailer Needs

A Way to Get Better Records at Lower Cost

Why are prompt and accurate figure records so important in retail business?

Because in successful retailing time is everything.

You can't check up your business figures once a month and expect to "get by." Even once a week is taking a big chance. You ought to know every day.

You must buy today, sell tomorrow; take a small profit and turn it over quickly.

You can't carry unsalable stock, long credits, slow collections, or any unnecessary expense in retail business as it is run today.

You want to know every day the essential facts about how your business stands.

Hard to get? No, easy and economical, if you do the work on a Burroughs Machine.

It will quickly give you the totals for charge sales, cash sales, bank deposits, additions to stock, goods on hand, charge accounts, overhead expense and profits.

The Burroughs Machine is easy to buy on the installment plan. It will pay for itself as it goes along—usually does it in error-prevention alone.

Let our representative show you how other merchants are getting real profits out of their Burroughs Adding, Bookkeeping or Calculating Machines, besides having a lot more daily brass-tack figure information that is invaluable.

If you're not satisfied the machine will pay its way we don't want you to take it. Call us on the telephone—you can't lose and may gain a great deal.

DOWNEY OUTCLASSES WILSON IN TAME CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

NO DECISION AGREEMENT SAVES CROWN FOR TITLE HOLDER

New Jersey Boxing Commission Orders Rickard To Hold Up Wilson's End of Purse Pending Probe of Fight

RING-SIDE, JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Bryan Downey of Cleveland and Johnny Wilson of Boston, fought 13 tame and uninteresting rounds in their bout today to settle their dispute over the world's mid-weight championship.

Under the New Jersey law no official decision was permitted, but Wilson retained his championship belt. The fight was the opinion of a majority of the newspapermen and fight experts at the ringside that Downey won on points. In fact, the fighting in most of the rounds and landed the cleanest blows.

Wilson's performance was so unsatisfactory to the New Jersey Boxing Commission that they ordered Promoter Tex Rickard to hold his share of the purse pending a near-

When Wilson left the ring he was booed loudly by the crowd while Downey received applause.

There was not a semblance of a knockdown at any time. Wilson fell into a clinch at every opportunity and appeared to have the better of four rounds, three went to Wilson and the others were even.

In their last bout in Cleveland Downey floored Wilson twice and claimed the referee's slow counting on the knockdowns prevented him from annexing the championship. The referee claimed Wilson had the head and awarded him the decision. The Massachusetts boxing commission upheld the referee, a Boston man, while the Cleveland commission awarded Downey the win.

Thirty-eight thousand persons occupied seats in the great pine bowl at Boylston Thirty Acres.

All the time that the arena was vacant and the crowd appeared only a handful compared to that which witnessed the Dempsey-Carpenter fray July 3.

Three many women present. They entered the ring at 4:15 o'clock. His injured nose covered with a plaster. Both were greeted with a single ovation.

Wilson was wearing adhesive tape instead of the required layer of bandages and were required to take it off.

Wilson then wound their hands in soft cotton bandages as required by the New Jersey boxing commission.

The referee was Jim Savage of Newark.

The weights were announced. Wilson, the champion, Boston, 155 pounds and Bryan Downey, of Cleveland, the challenger, 164 pounds.

Johnny Ruth, Jersey City, 144 pounds, knocked out Indian Russell, 164 pounds, of Harrisburg, Pa., in the first round of their 10-round match.

Willie Spencer, 121 pounds, New York, and Billy Epstein, 119 pounds, Indianapolis, fought a fast, eight-round, no-decision bout, the first preliminary.

Mattie Roberts, 125 pounds, New York, and Dick Griffin of Fort Worth, Texas, 125 pounds, fought furiously in their eight-round, no-decision bout.

Herbert was floored by a left in the third round, but refused to take the count.

Mike McTigue, New York, 159 pounds, and Panama Joe Gans, 152 1/2 pounds, fought twelve fast rounds in the final bout, but landed a right in the final round.

Round One—Downey rushed from his corner and landed the first blow, a left to the chin. Wilson bowed cautiously. Downey landed a left to the body and a right to the jaw, rocking Wilson. Downey missed a vicious right uppercut, but landed a right to the jaw. They clinched at the bell.

Round Two—They clinched and Wilson landed two light lefts on Downey's jaw. Downey missed a right to the head. They exchanged lefts to the chin. There was little fighting on the part of either man, both working for an opening.

Round Seven—Downey forced the fighting and had the better of an exchange at close quarters. Downey sent a straight right to the stomach. Wilson caught Downey with a left hook. They fought slowly.

Round Eight—Downey landed two rights to the body and one to the jaw. Wilson landed a right to the left eye. They clinched repeatedly. Both missed many blows and were hooted by the crowd.

Round Nine—Trying for a knockout Downey landed his right twice on the jaw and once in the stomach. He missed a swing to the head and nearly fell. Wilson landed lefts and rights to the body. Downey was sending a swing to the head and nearly fell. Wilson landed lefts and rights to the body. Downey was sending a swing to the head and nearly fell.

Round Ten—Downey landed hard right and lefts to the body. Downey missed a right to the head and took several rights to the body. Downey missed and they went into a clinch at the bell.

Round Eleven—Downey rushed to the ropes and sent two hard right and lefts to the jaw. Wilson sent a left hook to the stomach and they exchanged body blows at close quarters. Downey missed a right to the head and was booked sharply by Wilson on the jaw. They exchanged right body blows and clinched.

Round Twelve—Downey was trying hard but his bows did not seem to hurt Wilson. He sent a hard right to the stomach. Downey landed a hard right on the jaw. They exchanged lefts to the stomach. They fell into a clinch at the bell and exchanged lefts and rights at the bell.

KING RHILEY WINS ANNUAL PIKES PEAK AUTOMOBILE CLIMB

Climb 2,000 Foot Grade of 12 Miles in 19 Minutes, 16 1-5 Seconds, But Fails To Break Record

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 6.—King Rhiley of Grand Island, Nebraska, won a leg on the Pikes trophy in the annual Pikes Peak automobile hill climbing contest, driving the twelve miles and 2,000 feet in 19 minutes, 16 1-5 seconds. The record was established by Ralph Mulford in 1916 with 18 minutes, 22 seconds.

The trophy was offered to the car making the best time, irrespective of size, additional prizes being offered for first and second place in each of three classes, based on engine piston displacement.

Eighteen cars started, five being forced out of the race by engine trouble.

Only 12 1-2 classes separated Rhiley and Otto Loeschke of Canonville, Ind., who took second place. Rhiley narrowly escaped death on the first run when his car struck a log which was in the road and skidded to within six inches of a deep gulch. The winners in each class took a $500 prize and $200 was offered for second place.

Summary: Class one—182 inch displacement, Glenn Schultz of Colorado Springs, W. H. Bentrup, Harold Frantz, Time, 21:54 2-5. Class two—184 to 200 inch displacement, Otto Loeschke, J. C. Williamson, Time, 19:47 3-5. Class three—201 to 240 inch displacement and up, King Rhiley, Ralph Mulford, Steve Nemech. In event No. 2, cars over 182 inches displacement and less than 241, Otto Loeschke, last year's winner, was first in 15:41. Glenn Schultz was first in the small car class in 21:34. Ralph Mulford was second in event No. 2 in 19:51.

The following were entered: Otto Loeschke, Lexington, Ala. Lexington; King Rhiley, Hudson; Glen Schultz, Ford; J. C. Chapman, Dodge; J. C. Williamson, Allen; Steve Nemech, Talke; Horace G. Frantz, Essex; Ott Davis, Dodge; Lyman Hess; Allen; H. P. O'Brien, Upmobile; Sam Marcus, Haver; Norman A. Glen, Ford; E. L. Kinney, Ford; P. B. Abbott, Packard; W. P. Bentrup, Chevrolet; William Major, Red; R. H. Mulford, Paige; Percy B. Green, Marmon; Frank Valley, Standard; S. Ed. Clunchev, Chevrolet; Pecos Dyke, Chevrolet; S. L. Adams, Humphreys; Murray G. Hubbel, Ford; R. E. Wyatt, Revere; Emilio Fornagh, Roamer.

When Sixty Looks to be Fifty-Five

You may seek the reason in rational eating and drinking.

Coffee and tea must always be limited in the amount any man may safely take, because of the unfortunate effect of caffeine and theine upon the central nervous system, upon the heart action and the kidneys, and their tendency to cause indigestion.

Schlitz, the famous cereal drink, may be taken freely. Substitute it in summer for iced tea, and note how much steadier your nerves are. Schlitz promotes clear skin, sparkling eyes, regular heart action and good digestion.

Schlitz is made pure—aged in glass lined tanks, cooled in filtered air in plate glass rooms, every bottle is sterilized by the Pasteur process, and the Schlitz Brown Bottle protects its purity till it reaches your glass.

Schlitz is healthful—and quenches the thirst.

Gets Hot, But Not Too Hot

ONE BRAND-ONE QUALITY-ONE SIZE PACKAGE

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saying in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Here's another. We put no useless frills on the Camel package. No "extra wrappers!" Nothing just for show!

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing—and one only—is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—That is CAMEL QUALITY.

THE WESTINGHOUSE Electric Curling Iron does more than merely curl—it curls the hair without injuring it.

It heats to just the right temperature, and curls the hair with a curl that stays.

It is no larger than an ordinary curling iron, but it's much more satisfactory—it stays hot until you turn the current off.

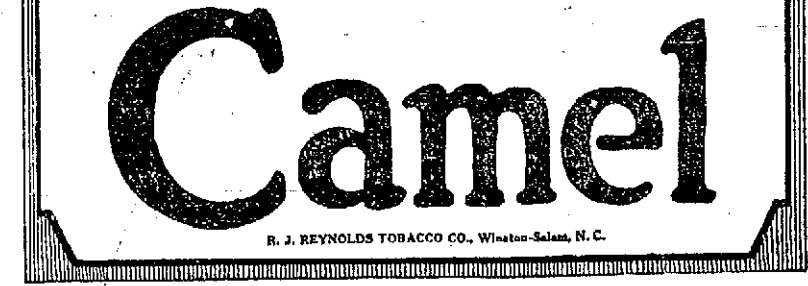

This curling won is very convenient and is really good looking.

Bad Roads Affect Marriage Licenses

HIDDELL, Cal., Sept. 5.—The bad condition of the state highway, due to construction work, has largely cut down the number of marriage licenses issued at this county seat, by compelling rural couples to take to other matrimonial centers, it is asserted by Deputy County Clerk W. O. Blodgett.

According to Blodgett, two couples about to embark upon matrimony changed their minds when their machines broke down on rough stretches of shuddering road and arguments broke out while the floundering bridegrooms were changing tires.

Mountain Lions Are Found By Farmer

VISALIA, Sept. 5.—George Hicks, a rancher of Springville, heard a commotion in his chicken house a few nights ago, and taking his shot, he went to investigate. Instead of a badger or a coyote, he found himself confronted by two mountain lions. The first shot killed one of the beasts, but the second one, which was supposed to have caused the animals to leave the ranch, was still in the foothills.

Announce Analysis Made of Cigarettes

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The board of managers of the Anti-Cigarette League announced that they have procured the results of investigations of American medical laboratories and the London Lancet Laboratory, which disclosed that in addition to nicotine, cigarette and tobacco smoke contain a deadly poison, carbon monoxide, and carbon dioxide.

"These gases were used in large quantities in the late world war to kill soldiers," adds the announcement. "There were also found several other deadly poisons, including furfural, an irritating substance said to be about fifty times as poisonous as ordinary alcohol."

MUCH INTEREST HERE IN GUARD

One Company Organized and Another Ready

Barrows commanding. Major Barrows is not only a good soldier, but a scholar, as is attested by his occupancy of the presidential chair at the University of California, and contact with him and officers from the regular army, most of whom were West Pointers, gave to the men under his instruction a self reliance and assurance which cannot be taken away.

Another Company for Fresno

The enthusiasm engendered by the efforts of the members of this first Fresno company to organize another company, and perhaps a battalion, with headquarters in Fresno, in this respect the hopes of the local guards have been realized. The recruiting of the second company for Fresno, to be known as Company F-159, was completed three days before the time scheduled for the completion of the task. Fifty two men had enlisted at the close of the recruiting office on last Saturday night. The examinations and enlistment papers have been completed and are now being checked. Upon completion of this work this company will be mustered in. This unit will take place probably on the 12th of this present month. Official announcement is to be made at a later date.

Fresno Battalion Headquarters.

Some time ago J. J. Borro, adjutant general of the state announced a policy of keeping the battalions as closely centralized as possible and at that time authorized an entire battalion for Fresno, if there was sufficient desire on the part of the people of the city of Fresno to have a battalion of this interest there appears to be no doubt, judging from the rapidity with which recruits are coming in for enlistment. The battalion will include three companies of infantry, one machine gun company, and a headquarters company. This latter company consists of 42 men, three hundred men in the national guard organization in Fresno and will mean in commercial importance the increasing of the local payroll by about $35,000 annually.

In addition to this the expenditures for supplies and for housing and drill requirements will add more than double this amount of government funds in this locality. It is a movement that is receiving the heartiest support of the public in general and there seems no doubt but that the desire to station an entire battalion in Fresno will be realized within a short time. The local nation picture houses are voluntarily assisting to draw this movement to the attention of the public through the medium of slides, inviting the citizens to investigate the opportunity and the pleasure that the national guard has to offer its members and advising that the place of enlistment is at the Army Post Exchange, where the recruiting officers are stationed every evening from 7 to 10 o'clock for the purpose of giving out information relative to the organization and to receive applications from those who may wish to join in dedicating themselves with high ideals and noble impulses to this glorious task.

client desire on the part of the people of the city of Fresno to have a battalion of this interest there appears to be no doubt, judging from the rapidity with which recruits are coming in for enlistment. The battalion will include three companies of infantry, one machine gun company, and a headquarters company. This latter company consists of 42 men, three hundred men in the national guard organization in Fresno and will mean in commercial importance the increasing of the local payroll by about $35,000 annually.

In addition to this the expenditures for supplies and for housing and drill requirements will add more than double this amount of government funds in this locality. It is a movement that is receiving the heartiest support of the public in general and there seems no doubt but that the desire to station an entire battalion in Fresno will be realized within a short time.
